Rosedale's AZALEAS for Spring Bloom

AZALEA INDICA, ALBERT AND ELIZABETH

HOW TO GROW AZALEAS

Azaleas are easy to grow. They thrive best in locations where shade is available during the hottest part of the day. The soil should be acid in reaction provided by mixing two-thirds peat moss to one-third of light soil. Good drainage is important. Set plants at the same level as they were in the pots. Uniform light watering is advisable. Never let plants dry out.

These truly gorgeous shrubs are the showiest of all flowering plants we list—the entire plant being ablaze with color, in one burst each spring from January to April. Give them an acid soil rich in or entirely composed of peat or oak leaf mold. They like light shade and are especially fine under tall branched trees, where a moderate but constant supply of water is possible. Once the bloom is over the foliage and new growth is neat and pleasing for the remainder of the year.

INDICA AZALEAS

Indica Azaleas are the choicest of all because their flowers are so large and lovely, often 2 inches and more across, sometimes daintily doubled.

Albert-Elizabeth. This is a very delightful variation from the usually showy azalea. Double flowers white with a very delicate pale pink margin around each petal. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Fred Saunders. Low growing bushy and compact azalea. Produces masses of large, very brilliant red flowers in spring. This is one of the showiest of all we list. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Paul Schame. The most popular of all—stocks have never been large enough to meet the demand. Flowers truly lovely, double, rich salmon-rose, very large and showy. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Pink Pearl. The finest of all pink azaleas. Large clusters of huge 2-inch delightfully double flowers in a delicate apple-blossom pink, with deeper rose at the base of the upper petals. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Triumph. One of the loveliest Indicas with fully double deep cyclamen red flowers, often 3 inches across, the petals daintily twisted. We have seen many of these in bloom by Christmas time without forcing. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Vervaeana alba. Double pure white flowers. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Vervaeana variegated. Large ruffled flowers, white with pink splotches and markings. 6-inch pots $3.50.

Vandercruyssen. Double flowers of clear salmon-pink. 6-inch pots $3.25.

William van Orange. A remarkably brilliant shade of glowing orange. Another in the large flowered azalias which you will agree is one of the brightest and most colorful of all. 6-inch pots $3.50.

AZALEA, PAUL SCHAME

CAMELLIA, CHANDLERI ELEGANS

Rosedale's Selected CAMELLIAS

Alba plena. One of the choicest white Camellias. Lovely pure white formed flowers resembling open water lilies with rounded petals. Excellent deep green foliage. Very choice. 5-gal. $10.00.

Alba plena fimbriata. See Fimbriata, page 4.

Bella Romana. Large double flowers, a unique light pink with profuse stripes and splashes of carmine. A vigorous and free-flowering Camellia. Gal. $3.25, 5-gal. $8.95.

Chandleri elegans. Peony-type flowers of good size 4 or 5 inches, although sometimes quoted as 6 inches, of a lovely soft rose with irregular white markings. One of the most popular of this class. Gal. $3.70, 5-gal. $8.95.

Colonel Fiery. The most popular red camellia. Very double and very bright deep red. Makes a flat topped formal double flower. Exquisitely symmetrical. Gal. $3.95, 5-gal. $10.00.

Covina. In bloom much like Cheerful, but everyone likes it for the bushy habit. Excellent foliage making it a first rate ornamental. Flowers lasting, rose-red. Gal. $1.95, 5-gal. $6.95.

Daikaigura. The first large-flowered Camellia to bloom in late September or October is this large flowered peony-type. Very beautiful with the twisted and curled petals in the center, surrounded by broad reflexed petals. Camellia-rose with white markings. Gal. $3.50, 5-gal. $8.95.

Debutante. One of the most pleasingly lovely of all Camellias, especially for corsages. Flowers 2 to 4 inches across, fully double with loose gracefully curved or twisted petals of a very delicate light pink, lighter toward the edges. The flowers are symmetrical and round in outline. Foliage very good, rich glossy green. Early. Gal. $4.50, 5-gal. $12.50.

Emperor Wilhelm. Very choice peony-type Camellia, much like Chandleri elegans, but flowers have better substance. The broad flat outer petals surround a dense ball of twisted central petaloids in a striking manner. Deep Camellia-rose, with white markings. Gal. $6.00, 5-gal. $15.00.

CAMELLIA, DEBUTANTE

CAMELLIA, COLONEL FIERY

CAMELLIA, JORDAN'S PRIDE

CAMELLIA, KUMASAKA

Fimbriata. Like the popular alba plena in form and habit but differing in the petals which have a fine comb-like fringe on their edges. The pearly white, fully double and symmetrical flowers are extremely lovely, around 4 inches in diameter. Much sought after and one of the finest Camellias of all time. Gal. $7.00, 5-gal. $15.00.

Imperator. One never forgets the flower of this one. Showy deep red peony-shaped. The small central petals make a graceful high center. Gal. $1.95, 5-gal. $6.95.

Jordan's Pride. Large fragrant semi-double flowers in a delicate high light rose with a broad irregular white border, sometimes not very distinct and deeper streaks and splotches of deeper pink. To this add a few golden stamens and you have a reason for asking for this popular variety. Gal. $2.95, 5-gal. $6.95.

Julia Drayton. Flowers very large—a uniform scarlet red. The petals are large, beautifully veined and textured. Very double with high pointed center. Gal. $4.25, 5-gal. $10.00.

Kumasaka. One of the most beautiful Camellias we have. The flowers are immense, irregular or often called informal—although they are double the smaller petaloids are arranged among the petals in a delightful manner. Gal. $3.95, 5-gal. $10.00.

Panache. Medium-sized flattened double flowers of soft pink with lighter variegations. A beautiful shrub. Gal. $1.95, 5-gal. $6.95.

Pink Perfection. The most popular pink formed Camellia. Free-blooming, fully double with closely and neatly arranged petals. Gal. $1.95, 5-gal. $6.95.

Pope Pius. Most everyone seeing this outstanding variety immediately wants to include it among his collection. It is really a most outstanding Camellia with very double bright red flowers. Gal. $4.25, 5-gal. $12.00.

Professor Sargent. An unusual bright scarlet Camellia with a full round peony-type center. The outer petals in a single row; round in shape. Recognized as one of the best reds. Gal. $2.95, 5-gal. $8.95.

Purity. Popular white, perfectly formed, symmetrical flowers, fully double, showing stamens when fully open. A reliable bloomer. Gal. $2.50, 5-gal. $6.95.

CAMELLIA, ROSEDALE'S BEAUTY
(Trade Mark Registered)

Camellia, Rosedale's Beauty

An exceptionally fine formal flower of rich glowing light red. Shows only a few stamens in some flowers. Petals pointed at first, becoming well rounded. Not tight and dense as in Pink Perfection, but gracefully composed. Has strong growing habit and beautiful luxuriant large leaves. You will be surprised with this for the abundance of bloom. Even when young plants are set out they start blooming without years of wasting. Excellent as a corsage flower. A real delight. Gal. $2.50, 5-gal. $7.50.

Romany. Clean cut rosy-red flowers like Pink Perfection. Color unfading. Makes an excellent corsage flower—not too large. Gal. $1.95, 5-gal. $6.95.

CAMELLIA, POPE PIUS

Camellia Reticulata

A species Camellia from China and quite different from the others listed which are chiefly hybrids of Camellia japonica. The foliage is dull green although quite deep in tone, narrow and pointed. But, the crowning glory of this plant which has every Camellia fancier raving is the blooms of huge proportions. The wavy petals of silky texture are a rosy-red with purplish cast. Average size of flowers is 6-inches which by careful disbudding may reach 8 inches. Grafted plants. 5-gal. $27.50 each.

PLANTING GALLON SIZE

PLANTING 5-GALLON SIZE

HOW TO GROW CAMELLIAS

Camellias do best in shade or semi-shade, in soil showing an acid reaction. The easiest way to provide this acidity is to prepare large planting holes, or beds, if necessary, to plant several; digging wider than seems necessary and at least 18 inches deep. Mix some of the best soil with equal parts of leaf mold or peat and sand, so that the resulting soil is light and spongy. Fill the holes or bed, soak to settle, and several days later, set out the plants. Since alkali in the water will gradually overcome the acid, it is necessary to apply a dusting of garden sulphur once every three months, using enough to color the soil light yellow and follow with a thorough watering. Alum may also be used, but is not as good to use as the sulphur. Mulches of leaf mold or peat are beneficial to conserve moisture and keep the soil cool about the roots. They need moisture, but should be planted so the drainage is away from the stems.

FASCINATION

Rosedale's Choice FUCHSIAS

Of the great multitude of Fuchsias available we have made a careful selection and present the following list which we are sure will meet the most particular requirements.

Growing Fuchsias is easy to accomplish. Careful preparation of the soil with generous amounts of leaf mold or peat moss at the time of planting followed by a mulch of the same material to retain the moist atmosphere about the plants. Inland, away from the coast, they prefer shade. Plants should never be allowed to dry out, especially during the warm summer months.

4-inch pots 75c each. Also available in larger sizes.

Cascade. Popular for hanging baskets, where the plant grows over the side and cascades down showing masses of large single flowers. Very long sepals. Flowers pink, salmon and light cerise.

Display. An old favorite. Hardy, vigorous and profusely blooming. Clear pink sepals enclosing a saucer-shaped broad corolla of deep pink petals.

New Fascination. One of the showiest of all Fuchsias with large, loose double flowers. Petals deep rosy-pink; sepals deep pink. Very free flowering and an excellent garden plant.

Nonpareil. Large semi-double flowers of rich rosy blue-violet with ivory-white petals showing flesh tints. Very free flowering and showy. Attracts a lot of attention.

Pasadena. Large flaring snow-white flowers. Double showing pink veins and reflexing sepals of deep rose pink. Literally bursts into bloom. Fine foliage, compact habit.

Patty Evans. Large double flowers of beautiful substance and form. Petals pure white and waxy textured sepals of white tinted with soft rose on the under side. Vigorous and rapid growing.

Mrs. Victor Reiter. Single. Petals of pure crimson showing pure white at the base; long tube and slender sepals creamy white with sepals occasionally tinted rose. Excellent for basket work.

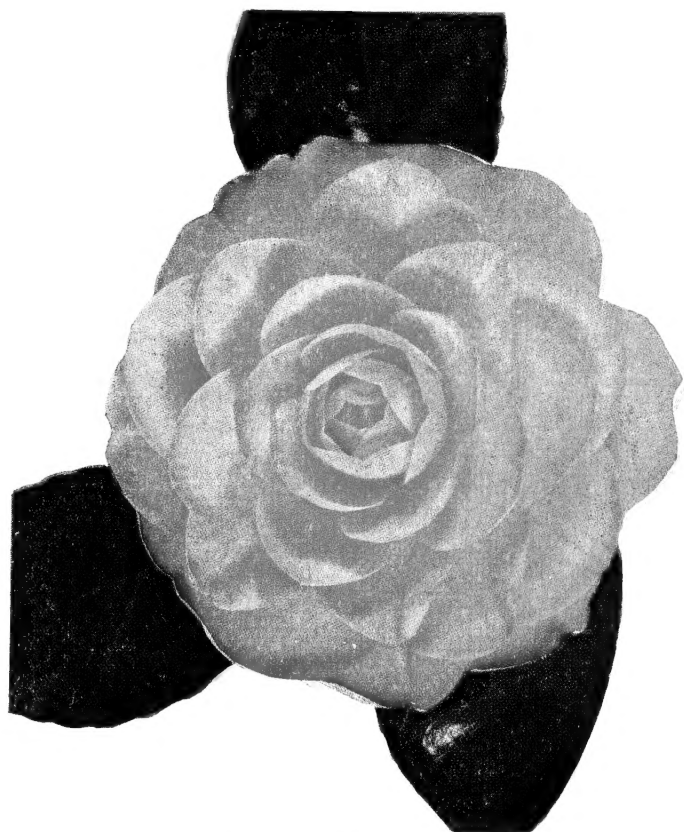

Royal Purple. Semi-double. Petals dark royal purple; sepals deep crimson. The very dark coloring is unusually beautiful.

The Chief. Beautiful large flowered double. Petals rich dark violet flushed and streaked with cerise; sepals deep carmine. Spectacular.

The Doctor. Semi-trailing. Petals deep pink to rose; sepals soft salmon-pink, long and pointed.

Victory. Semi-double with exceptionally long recurved sepals of glistening carmine; petals rose-madder, long and incurved making a globular form. Flowers very large.

Winston Churchill. Large double. Petals magenta pink shaded with blue. Sepals reflexed, rose pink. Strong upright growth producing quantities of bloom over a long season.

CAMELLIA, PINK PERFECTION

Rosedale's Evergreen Flowering Shrubs

By far the largest group of ornamentals for Southern California, the Evergreen Flowering group are also among the most popular. By retaining their foliage the year around, they add greatly to the home planting—as pleasing in winter as in summer. The flowers and also the fruits of some are extremely showy. One can always find some variety in bloom.

Out of this great assortment of shrubs, we at Rosedale's have selected the best for general planting. When making selections, care should be taken to consider the ultimate height of the shrub, and preferred exposure, as for sun or shade. The most common mistake among home planters is to set a tall-growing plant in front of a window, which in a few years is obscured by a tangle of branches.

By the same token, very gratifying results may be had by planting quick-growing plants like Hibiscus, Abutilon, Privets and similar shrubs, but one must be ready to replace them at a later date before they get leggy and impossible to handle.

We have indicated in the descriptions the height and exposure best for each item. When no culture is given it is assumed the plant will do well in sun or light shade under average garden conditions.

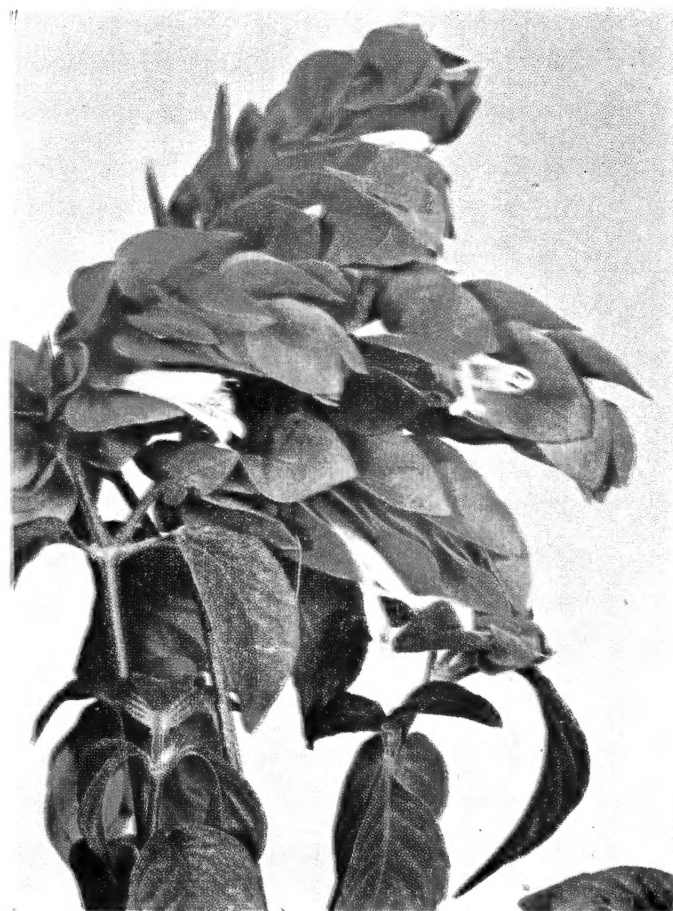

Prices Throughout This Catalog Subject to Change Without Notice.

PLANTS FOR GOOD HEDGES

Low—Box, Gardenia, Guavas, Myrtle, Cotoneaster.

Medium—Privet, Cotoneaster, Pyracantha Rosedale, Camellia, Hibiscus.

Tall—Forbes Cypress (see page 24), Pittosporum, Prunus, Viburnum, Eugenia.

SHRIMP PLANT, BELOPERONE

Abelia Edward Gaucher

The introduction of this new Abelia marks a step forward in the development of fine shrubs for ornamental planting. It makes a bushy and compact shrub with bright glossy dark green leaves—a most pleasing shade. The short tubular flowers with flaring throats appear most of the time. It is almost everblooming. Quite an addition to the list of Rosedale Select Shrubs. Medium height, delicate pink flowers. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Glossy Abelia

Abelia grandiflora. A first class shrub growing to about 6 or 8 feet in height with arching branches covered with small, pointed, glossy green leaves. The leaves and flower bracts are red when new, making a lovely contrast with the older leaves and pearly white flowers in early summer. Hardy all along the west coast and in sheltered places inland where winters are not too severe. Sun or light shade. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Flowering Maple

Abutilon hybrids. One of the quickest growing of all shrubs, Abutilon will make a neat, flower-covered plant of good foliage and habit. Leaves are like maple and flowers of all are shaped like hanging Chinese lanterns.

Red Monarch. Very large bright red flowers. Practically everblooming. This is the best red we have ever seen. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Speciosa. Unsurpassed! A bushy compact shrub with large bright orange flowers. Like Red Monarch, it is practically everblooming. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

ARBUTUS UNEDO—STRAWBERRY SHRUB

ABUTILON

Rice Paper Plant

Aralia sieboldi. An excellent plant for tropical foliage effects in the patio or similar garden areas. Grows bushy and neat making a mass of long stemmed leaves. It is better in shade and in some sections has become valued as a specimen for planting in tubs or large ornamental pots. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.00.

Strawberry Tree

Arbutus unedo. Strawberry Tree, a shrub, gets its name from the bright red fruits which look like strawberries. Flowers are tiny white bells in graceful sprays and these cover the well-foliaged shrub in spring—sometimes at the same time the fruits are showing. Although it is one of the longest lived ornamentals, it is likewise one of the hardiest of all. It stands abuse well—as in city gardens with poor soil and little attention. The thick dark green leathery leaves make a lovely contrast with the bright fruits. Sun or shade. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Gold Dust Plant

Aucuba japonica variegata. For open ground or in ornamental tubs or jardinières where ornamental foliage is needed; Aucuba is best, particularly if the situation is somewhat shaded. Leaves about 5 inches long, by 2 inches wide, thick, deep green with many gold-like speckles over the surface—very interesting and ornamental. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Shrimp Plant

Beloperone tomentosa. Usually about 4 feet tall with the appearance of being a perennial, this shrub is most unique. The flowers which seem to last indefinitely, are made of terra cotta colored scales or bracts, curled in such a way and enveloping one another as to look like a shrimp. For sun or light shade, even as a pot plant for the conservatory—for your friends in cold climates. Always in bloom. Gal. 60c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Yesterday and Today

Brunfelsia floribunda. Sweetly scented flowers, opening a lovely shade of lavender—fading to white. The in-between shade is slightly pinkish and suggests the name since all stages of flowers appear at the same time. This is one of the best shrubs for foundation planting. Generally not over 4 or 5 feet, although it will get twice as large. Deep green closely placed leaves and choice flowers make a pretty and showy sight in spring. Sun or shade. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Boxwood

Buxus japonica. The most satisfactory plant for hedge planting. It is evergreen and hardy with tiny dark green leaves set close together; stands merciless shearing with quick recovery. For hedges set smaller plants 8 to 12 inches apart and allow to grow together. Boxwood makes excellent specimen shrubs in the garden, especially where clipped shapes are wanted as in formal gardens. You may select specially trained specimens at Rosedale's.

Trained as Globes. 12-15" at $4.50.

Trained as Pyramids. 15-18" at $4.50.

Untrained plants. Gal. 65c.

Albatross Bouvardia

Bouvardia Albatross. This is the newest and finest of all Bouvardias. The flowers are immense, often 4 inches long, with waxy petals expanding an inch or more, the whole pure white. Deep green foliage, lovely fragrant blossoms. Ultimate height, probably 3 or 4 feet, but of such quality as to deserve a choice place in any home planting. Sun or part shade. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $4.25.

Any item listed on pages 31 to 38 and 40 to 47, inclusive, may be ordered by mail; shipped prepaid anywhere in the U. S. during the months of Jan., Feb. and March only.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY, BRUNFELSIA

DAPHNE ODORA (See page 9)

NATAL PLUM

Carissa grandiflora. Natal Plum deserves special consideration as an ornamental. Its deep green, glossy healthy foliage, fragrant, chaste white flowers and red plum-like fruits give satisfaction the year around. It is hardy, stands abuse although the sharp spines concealed under the leaves make it an excellent barrier even with its low height of 4 feet. Sun or shade. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

BURMESE PLUMBAGO

Ceratostigma griffithi. A low growing spreading shrub about two feet high and several across when well grown. It makes a mass of branches well clothed with bronzy green foliage and quantities of brilliant blue flowers throughout the autumn months. Just one of the finest dwarf plants we can offer. Quite hardy. Gal. 75c.

Night Scented Jasmine

Cestrum parqui. For ordinary planting, this shrub would rate a place in the screen planting or where attention would not be important, for the dull, light green foliage and inconspicuous light yellow tubular flowers are neither outstanding, but when evening comes, the delicate perfume given out by the flowers is entrancing and not overpowering. Gardens for evening enjoyment depend on this shrub. Sun or part shade, 6 feet. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Geraldton Wax Flower

Chamaelaucium ciliatum. Cut flowers that last? And are beautiful? Well, here is the answer to your question. In the last few years since its introduction, this shrub has raided even the New York cut flower market and before the war quantities of cut sprays were shipped east. It makes a tall 5 to 8 foot shrub with graceful branches, heath-like foliage and sprays of delicate five-petaled flowers of wax-like structure in white and pink with deep maroon-colored cups as centers. Sun, and dry porous soil is best. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Fairy Butterflies

Chorizema varium. The bright flame pea is one of the most gratifying of small, low growing shrubs. It makes a low, bushy plant, seldom over a foot high and when in bloom has no equal for brilliance. The plants are literally covered in winter with masses of orange-scarlet pea-shaped flowers. Very showy and attractive it presents a neat appearance at other times with its deep green small round leaves. Gal. 75c.

Rock Rose

Cistus ladaniferous maculatus. Just ask for Rock Rose when you want a low bushy plant for a specimen about 2 to 3 feet high with deep green foliage and quantities of white flowers. The hotter the weather and the more the sunshine the greater the bloom. Each petal has a dark maroon spot near the base. Spring flowering. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Lily of the Valley Bush

Clethra arborea. A large specimen shrub with attractive 4-inch long shiny green leaves. In late summer it produces masses of long panicles of little white flowers just like those of Lily of the Valley, hence the name. In partial shade it is unsurpassed as an ornamental shrub. Gal. $1.25, 5-gal. $4.25.

MEYER LEMON—For Fruit and Ornament (See page 10)

Looking-Glass Plant

Coprosma baueri. Primarily a foliage plant. The round, waxy dark green leaves have a glossy texture sometimes enough to be a mirror. A great favorite for many years, for quick, dense foliage growth. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Australian Fuchsia

Correa pulchella. This excellent low-growing shrub from Australia has achieved great popularity in the last few years. Small rounded greyish green leaves and a mounded growth to about 2 feet spreading downward to the edges and dainty pink bells suggestive of Fuchsia, but not even distant relatives make this one of the more refined shrubs for planting in well-drained places about the house. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

ROCK ROSE, CISTUS LADANIFEROUS (See page 8)

GERALDTON WAX FLOWER (See page 8)

COTONEASTERS

General landscape planting places certain requirements on shrubs used to make the plant compositions or pictures in the garden. Among these are neatness, uniformity of growth, pleasing texture and form and general all around beauty. Whatever purpose you have in mind, you can safely select a Cotoneaster for that purpose. The dainty flowers in spring and glorious red berries later are the same for all, but the habit, height of growth and color of foliage and size of leaves vary with the varieties. We list dwarf and large growing sorts, all require sun and little care once they are established.

Horizontalis. Rock Cotoneaster. Low spreading shrub with angular branches almost hugging the ground. The tiny round leaves turn deep red in the fall accentuating the brightness of red berries. Very beautiful in spring when myriads of tiny "apple-blossom" like flowers cover the entire plant. Excellent for bank planting, rock gardens or as a low shrub cover for many dry sunny problem places. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Paranyi. Of the tallest varieties, 6 to 10 feet, this is the best; large arching branches, always graceful, bears small, dark green leaves and large clusters of brilliant red berries. Gal. 50c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Canary Bird Bush

Crotalaria agatifolia. Large shrub with light green graceful foliage and quantities of unique flowers that look for all the world like little greenish-yellow canary birds, perched on the branches. Needs no special care, doing best in full sun. Will even grow well in poor soil. This is one of the most attractive and unusual shrubs of recent introduction. Entertain your friends with bouquets of the long flower spikes. They are not long lasting when cut but you will have lots of them. Gal. $1.25, 5-gal. $3.95.

Fragrant Daphne

Daphne odora marginiata. Slow growing, making a compact shrub about 3 or 4 feet tall, with narrow, white margined 3-inch leaves, and sweetly fragrant flowers in early spring. These are pink, fading to white, waxy and popular with many gardeners. Growing conditions practically identical to Camellias, as to soil and exposure and therefore goes well in Camellia plantings but not necessary to have acid soil. Plant in shade. Gal. $1.95, 5-gal. $6.00.

Pink Breath of Heaven

Diosma pulchrum. For quick effect in foundation planting and for filling in holes at the bases of screen plantings, this rounded 4-foot shrub with fine yellow-green heather foliage is particularly useful. In winter and spring it is covered with tiny pink flowers in quantities such as to color the entire shrub. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Heather

Erica melanthera rosea. The best winter flowering heather. Hardy and long-lived it makes an attractive medium to tall shrub with small narrow pointed leaves like those of a conifer. In bloom it is most attractive with billowy masses of dainty pink bells with black stamens. Best in light well drained soil. Gal. 80c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Eugenia

Eugenia myrtifolia. When small, it is a compact narrow mass of exceptionally fine small leaves, reddish when new, dark glossy green as they mature. Stands clipping as well as box and, therefore, makes very fine hedges or tall narrow pillars for accent. Trained as a small tree, it shows its rosy-red fruits to best advantage. Sun. Gal. 50c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Rosedale's Selected DWARF CITRUS

Ornamentals that add to the family food supply are really scarce. Especially valuable is the group often referred to as Dwarf Citrus. These are low growing shrubs with deep green attractive foliage, fragrant white flowers like those of orange and colorful fruits of culinary value. You can't go wrong in planting either, for as ornamentals they are first rate as attested by their popularity.

Calamondin

Calamondin. Exceptionally colorful when fruit is ripe. The small round fruits, deep orange in color are borne in large clusters. They make the finest marmalade imaginable. Gal. $1.25, 5-gal. $4.50.

Dwarf Meyer Lemon

Meyer Lemon. For quality fruit you can't tell this from the commercial lemon. Will supply all the lemons you need. Colorful, hardy, and beautiful, the Meyer Lemon bush type is one of the best ornamental shrubs we list. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Escallonia

Escallonia organensis. New introduction. The best of a select family of shrubs this is outstanding in every respect as an ornamental shrub of merit. Makes a medium size shrub with glossy green foliage, reddish colored twigs and compact and neat in growth. During the summer and fall the quantity of bloom is amazing. Clusters of pink "apple-blossom" flowers in sizeable heads crown every stem. It is without doubt one of the most desirable shrubs and most satisfactory for southern California. Easy to grow. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

GARDENIAS

For Corsages . . . Home Grown

Grow Gardenias at home and have your own corsages all summer. As ornamental shrubs, Gardenias rate very high—the depth of green is not too deep because the sheen on the leaves lightens the effect by reflecting light. They require very acid soil and often show yellowing in the leaves. Applications of acid fertilizer, sulfur or alum, correct this and new bright green readily returns. When the old leaves drop, just before growth, they become a rich yellow, which lasts only a short time and is quite different from the yellowing caused by alkaline soil.

Rosedale's Mystery Gardenia

The finest development in a large-flowered Gardenia for home growing. Flowers vary in size from 3 to 5 inches across. Sun, but sometimes will do well in part shade. Planted as a hedge, Gardenias make one of the most desirable and valuable ornamental hedges imaginable. The deep green glossy leaves and perfect flowers are best when not watered either too much or too often. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Gardenia Veitchi. Desirable as an "ever-blooming" Gardenia. Produces flowers all summer although somewhat smaller in size than Mystery, they are nonetheless perfect in form and fragrance. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Guavas

Typical shrubs for southern plantings, the Guavas, like their brothers, the Dwarf Citrus, combine that rare quality of beauty and utility. As ornamentals they are the equal of any shrub planted. The lemon and pineapple are best used as tall shrubs while the strawberry types are good as medium height shrubs. They make a good hedge for enclosing the garden, vegetable garden or as plants to screen undesirable views. The foliage, flowers and fruits for jelly, will be your reward.

Lemon. Largest fruits of all, bright yellow. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Strawberry Guava. Clusters of small round fruits. Red and Yellow. Gal. 70c; 5-gal. $2.95.

Pineapple Guava. Flowers most ornamental; waxy white with brilliant red stamens. Gray-green foliage and large pale green fruits. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

HIBISCUS, CROWN OF BOHEMIA

Rosedale's

Brilliant Summer Flowering

HIBISCUS

Few shrubs are as beautiful as these lovely Hawaiian importations. Their large flowers, single or double, are available in many varied and lovely colors from the delicate pink of Agnes Gault to the fiery crimson of Brilliant; to the delicate tones of buff, salmon and apricot. The individual flowers last only one day and can be used for flower arrangements, without water. Stick each blossom atop a thin green-covered wire, or a slender rattan strip.

Hibiscus prefer sun, but will flower in light shade. They are tender shrubs and need protection in areas where frosts occur. But in the event of frost, the plants will quickly recover, even if taken to the ground.

Agnes Gault. The enormous velvety shrimp-pink single flowers are the largest and showiest of all pink Hibiscus. A vigorous growing free-blooming shrub—perhaps the most popular of all. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Brilliante. Sometimes called San Diego Red, and ranking in popularity with Agnes Gault. The flowers are smaller, but a vivid crimson rare in flowers. One of the best. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Buff. A lovely single type with flowers in a pleasing buff or apricot shade. The deep center has a faint crimson stain. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Crown of Bohemia. By far the best and most dependable blooming of all the double Hibiscus. It combines all the colors of autumn in the large double flower—the rich golden base tones with blends of copper and orange; never twice the same but each and every one most charming. Gal. $1.50, 5-gal. $4.25.

Double Scarlet. Flowers best described as a double Brilliante. Very pleasing in form and color. Somewhat dwarfer in habit of growth. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Kona (Double Agnes Gault). This is a favorite of ours, being the double counterpart of Agnes Gault, in the same delightful shade, fully double in a graceful manner and more free blooming than most doubles. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Orpah. Double red. One of the hardiest of all Hibiscus. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Peach Blow. Double flowers having the effect of one flower coming out of a larger base. Deep pink with a dark maroon zone at base of petals. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Sun Down. Double orange, with pink shading on the twisted petals. A very beautiful flower in sunset colors. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

White Wings. Shrub with spreading graceful habit. Large white petals; red column and throat. Single. Hardy and free blooming. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

HYDRANGEAS for Shady Plantings

Hydrangeas, with their large lush foliage and huge flower clusters have always been a favorite of California gardens. In spring and early summer, when in full bloom, they make a gorgeous display. Plant in partial shade where they will receive a generous amount of moisture. Hortensis. A taller shrub, sometimes 5 or 6 feet, very bushy and often loaded with clusters of bloom, very often covering the foliage. Will stand either sun or shade. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

French Hybrids

These hybrids are really superb. Individual florets, often an inch across, making a flower head nearly a foot across, on established plants. They need shade and considerable moisture. Hydrangeas are quick to show signs of dryness, but should never be allowed to wilt.

Chisholm. Large double pink flowers. Gal. 80c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Revelation. Finest of all the reds. Gal. $1.00, 5-gal. $3.95.

Trophee. Best of the French Hybrids, brilliant salmon rose. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Giant White. Large clusters of pure white flowers. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

HYDRANGEA, TROPHEE

Heliotrope

Rosedale's Black Beauty. A great improvement over the older types of Heliotrope, so characteristic of "old Fashioned" gardens. The large dark and luxuriant foliage is crowned by immense clusters of the deepest purple flowers yet seen. In fact they are almost black and possess that delightful sweet fragrance of Heliotrope. Plant in partial shade. Gal. 90c.

Gold Flower

Hypericum patulum henryi. Low, bushy and compact this medium size shrub is one of the best for foundation planting, or in large areas where, as an informal, unclipped hedge, it will bloom freely, brightening up its place with countless 1 to 1½ inch golden yellow flowers. Almost ever-blooming, this is one of the better shrubs for bright sunny places. Revels in poor soil and bright sun. Grows about 3 feet tall. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

HOLLIES

ENGLISH HOLLY

Ilex aquifolium, English Holly. Many of our customers like the typical holly leaves of this shrub—deep green and glossy with the typical spines always associated with holly and the bright red berries set close to the stem and among the leaves which remind them of Christmas spent in other parts of the country. English Holly will grow well but requires more than one plant to pollinate the flowers and berries. 5-gal. $6.00.

CHINESE HOLLY

Ilex cornuta, Chinese Holly. This is the best holly for southern California. The deep glossy leaves are like those of our popular Christmas decorations, but have fewer spines. Its habit of berrying is well established in our climate. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

LARGEST RED BERRIES

Ilex cornuta burfordi. A new improvement for mild climates, producing tremendous displays of bright red berries. Leaves still less spiny and berry clusters larger and brighter colored than the Chinese Holly. For sun or shade, this is the finest Holly for southern California. Gal. $1.25, 5-gal. $4.95.

LANTANAS

LANTANAS

Lantana camara hybrids. With Poinsettias and Palms, Lantanas are part of the California landscape. Lantanas are essentially shrubs for quick effects, but can be pruned back to the ground each season. Train them on walls, or allow to make large mounds on the ground. Foliage is good and they are always in bloom.

Dwarf Lantanas. Grow 2 to 3 feet high. Pink, Yellow, Radiation, White. Any of above, gal. 60c.

Lantana sellowiana. Very popular as a ground cover for which it is particularly fine. It makes a dense cover a foot high, withstands some walking over, but this should be avoided. Shows a mass of lavender bloom for a long time each summer. Sun. Gal. 50c.

Ask for quantity prices.

Double Dwarf Ti-Plant

Leptospermum scoparium flore-pleno. Dwarf and free blooming, this is one of the best low growing introductions in recent years. Blooms several times a year, chiefly on new growths. The leaves are short, needle-shaped; flowers like little double pink roses. Plant in a well-drained soil, in a sunny exposure. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Rosedale's Camellia - Leaved Ligustrum

Ligustrum Texanum

Rosedale's Camellia-Leaved Ligustrum. The beautiful glossy Camellia-like leaves and graceful arching stems make this one of the best evergreen shrubs we offer. In spring the rich creamy white lilac-like clusters of flowers are delightfully fragrant. Hardy in either full sun or shade. 5 to 10 feet. The best shrub for landscape planting. Ligustrum texanum makes one of the finest hedges and has our unreserved recommendation for planting as medium or tall hedges. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

HYPERICUM PATULUM HENRYI (See page 13)

ILEX CORNUTA BURFORDI (See page 13)

Rosedale's

Ornamental Espaliers

An espalier plant is one trained to grow flat against a wall instead of allowing it to assume its normal bushy habit. The idea of an espalier is not new but quality grown espaliers of ornamentals have never been plentiful. They make excellent plant decorations for walls, especially in those narrow strips of soil between the house and drive which are often the most aggravating places to plant. The espalier is then trained flat against the house, allowing free passage on the drive. In the limited spaces of the patio they are admirable against walls. You will also find Rosedale's espaliers especially ideal for use in conjunction with modern buildings.

We offer an assortment of espaliers in the following varieties:

Bougainvillea Barbara Karst. Brilliant red flowers—makes a gorgeous show of color. $12.50 each.

Meyer Lemon. For fruit as well as beauty. Fragrant flowers most of the year. Fruit of high quality. $10.00 each.

Pyracantha Rosedale. Make a gorgeous display of quantities of bright red berries for Christmas. $7.50 each.

Red Strawberry Guava. Low and slow growing espalier for a limited space. Beautiful deep green foliage and bright red fruit. $6.50 each.

Xylosma senticosa. Unsurpassed light green foliage. Medium height. A cool pleasing color. $6.50 each.

Sweet Lavender

Lavandula vera. Low growing with small narrow grey-green leaves in a rounded dense mass. A fine shrub for sunny places. The lavender flowers, gay and fragrant, are those used for perfume and sachet. Gal. 70c.

SOLANUM RANTONETTI IMPROVED (See page 18)

ORDER ROSES AND FRUIT TREES BY MAIL

Any item listed on pages 31 to 38 and 40 to 47, inclusive, may be ordered by mail; shipped prepaid anywhere in the U. S. during the months of January, February and March only.

PITTOSPORUM TOBIRA (See page 16)

Lemon Verbena

Lippia citriodora. This large-growing irregular shrub has long been popular as an herb, a fragrant foliage plant because the foliage has a lemon scent when crushed. An old fashioned shrub, best used as a filler in plantings for temporary show, but with careful pruning will keep in good condition for many years. Gal. 70c.

Orange Jessamines

Murrea exotica. An attractive tall growing specimen shrub with graceful habit of growth and excellent glossy green foliage. Freely produces large white flowers with the fragrance of orange blossoms followed by bright red fruits. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Murrea paniculata. Dwarf and compact, makes a low bushy shrub with rich green glossy foliage and quantities of white flowers sweetly scented of orange blossoms. Recommended as a medium size or dwarf shrub of merit. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

African Box

Myrsine africana. One of the finest low growing shrubs for hedges or for foundation planting. The tiny deep green bronzy leaves and reddish stems give the plant more color than Boxwood. The texture is soft and pleasing. Full sun only adds to color. It will stand shearing well. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Myrtle

Myrtus buxifolia, Boxleaf Myrtle. Rich, luxuriant foliage—the leaves are shorter than most Myrtles, an inch or so in length and about a half inch wide. Flowers are also larger and showy, with dainty stamens. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Myrtus compacta. One of the best plants for use in dwarf dense hedges, particularly those a foot or less in height. The dwarf habit, closely set tiny leaves lend themselves to this type of hedge. Also makes a beautiful dwarf specimen for garden use or in foundation plantings. Gal. 60c, 5-gal. $2.95.

RUELLIA MACRANTHA (See page 17)

PINK TI-TREE
DWARF DOUBLE FLOWERED LEPTOSPERMUM (See page 13)

Heavenly Bamboo

Nandina domestica. Nandina is not a plant for close inspection but since it is one of the few richly colored shrubs in spring and fall, its use in plantings for color is important. The foliage assumes a brilliant scarlet in cool weather, at which time the broad flat clusters of red berries add to the color. White flowers in spring. Grows 3 to 4 feet high, with rather stiff stems, but dainty foliage and flowers. Sun. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Oleanders

Nerium oleander. As large specimen shrubs, Oleanders are old favorites. They make large rounded shrubs 10 to 15 feet high and blossom best in hot weather—the hotter the better. They are resistant to drought and heat, and thrive on little care.

Cherry Ripe. Single pink, the shade of ripe cherries. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Com. Barthelemy. Flowers very large, up to 3 inches across, fully double, rich bright red, sometimes streaked with white. New and very choice. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Mrs. Roeding. Free blooming, somewhat smaller and dwarfer than most Oleanders. Flowers double, salmon-pink. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Jannoch's Single Red. The finest red single. Good color, and free blooming. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Sister Agnes. Very free flowering, single white. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Sweet Olive

Osmanthus fragrans. The Sweet Olive has excellent foliage, and although not heavy or rank in growth, the flexible stems can be trained against a wall espalier fashion with ease. Then the delightful fragrance of the tiny flowers can be appreciated in even the smallest of intimate gardens. Use it also as a specimen shrub for sun or part shade. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Princess Flower

Pleroma grandiflora. Brilliant rich purple flowers, velvety in texture, and often 3 inches across, unique in color and unusual with their five fish-hook stamens. Attractive deep green foliage showing decided and pleasing reddish tints. Properly trimmed it retains a compact shape and medium height. Good drainage, acid soil and plenty of water. Sun or shade. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Chinese Photinia

Photinia serrulata. If it were only for the color of the foliage alone this shrub would be on every select list. But in spring the flat-topped clusters of white bloom are exceedingly welcome and these are followed by bright red berries. It is a large shrub with 4 to 5 inch long toothed leaves that start life a bright light red turning a reddish green and going out in a burst of fire. Adaptable to places where a large shrub will fit. Will make a medium size shrub with careful heading back. Gal. 85c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Cape Plumbago

Plumbago capensis. Rounded shrub or semi-vine with good foliage, dense growth and covered with phlox-like blue or white flowers almost continuously. It is so hardy and robust as to continue growing in abandoned places. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Pittosporums

For California, Pittosporums are a trustworthy group of substantial shrubs. Although relegated to screen plantings, they are useful for many purposes where large shrubs, with exceptionally fine foliage and delightfully fragrant flowers are desirable. Easy to grow, and need very little care.

Pittosporum eugenoides. Tall, narrow-growing type with light pale green foliage on dark black stems. Grows about 15 feet. Sun. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Pittosporum tobira. Low, spreading shrub, 6 to 8 feet high, with deep green long blunt leaves like a Laurel. Fragrant clusters of pearly white flowers in spring. A very popular and indispensable shrub. Sun or shade. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Pittosporum undulatum, Victoria Box. It would be almost impossible to name all the uses to which this plant can be put. A large shrub, it is equally valuable when trained as a small tree. The leaves have wavy edges all along the 4-inch length. Fragrant white flowers in spring. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

PRINCESS FLOWER, PLEROMA

Polygala

Polygala dalmaisiana. Easy to grow and blooms the year around. This low bushy shrub grows 3 to 4 feet high, has small yellowish green box-like leaves in a dense close mass. Flowers like small "orchids" in a pleasing purple, appear continuously. Free of disease, always attractive. Stands full sun. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Poinsettias

Poinsettias are a common sight all winter in California where they are grown from 4 feet, if cut to the ground each spring, to 8 or 10 feet if not pruned. The bright red leaves surrounding the flowers are the showy part. Easy to grow in any sunny place.

Henrietta Ecke. Finest of all Poinsettias. Flower clusters large and the colored leaves so numerous and closely set as to appear "double". Gal. 90c.

Evergreen Cherries

The evergreen cherries are a delightful and useful class of Evergreen shrubs. They have no special requirement to grow well yet their rich green foliage can be adapted to many gardens. When grown free they are large specimen plants useful to conceal objectionable views, to fill large corners, or if planted in rows and clipped they make remarkably fine large hedges, from 5 to 10 feet in height.

Prunus caroliniana, Carolina Cherry. Always attractive with neat, glossy green foliage and white flowers. Most useful for many purposes—tall hedges, screen plantings, as background shrubs, or even as a small tree. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Prunus integrifolia, Catalina Cherry. Extremely drought resistant native of exceptional ornamental value. Has bright glossy green leaves, neat and healthy in appearance, white flowers and one inch across "cherries". Stands shearing for hedge work. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Ruellia

Ruellia macrantha. Showy, everblooming shrub making a rounded spreading plant with large leaves and long funnel-shaped rose-pink flowers, almost all year around. Best in light shade or a sheltered position. Gal. 60c, 5-gal. $2.95.

PYRACANTHA ROSEDALE
(Trade Mark Registered)

Pyracantha Rosedale

The lovely Pyracantha shown above, introduced by us several years ago, has achieved outstanding popularity and distinction for its show of red berries, resistance to blight and general all-around vigor. The long arching stems bear quantities of white flowers in spring and are loaded with berries each year. Has the darkest red berries of any Pyracantha. A multi-purpose shrub—as a medium sized unclipped hedge for white flowers in spring followed by brilliant berries from fall to Christmas; as an espalier of merit for narrow restricted space or against walls; as a clipped specimen in pyramidal form for an unusual display. You can't go wrong with this proven variety, superior to all others, of which a great many have appeared since Pyracantha Rosedale was introduced.

Bush form (Untrimmed). Gal. $1.00, 5-gal. $3.50.

Pyramid form (Trimmed). Excellent plants for gifts—every one a specimen. Gal. $1.50, 5-gal. $3.95.

Pyracantha yunnanensis graberi. A fine Pyracantha. Produces orange-red berries for Christmas decoration. White flowers in billowy masses in spring. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Jungle Queen

Rondeletia cordata. Popular evergreen shrub growing 6 to 8 feet tall with luxuriant green foliage the year around. The dainty blooms in large clusters blend pink and yellow petals on rich salmon-pink tubes. Does best in sun or part shade if plenty of moisture is assured. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Rondeletia amoena. Like the Jungle Queen except the leaves are larger and the flowers perhaps more vivid in their coloring, although smaller—rich pink, with yellow bearded throats. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

JUNGLE QUEEN, RONDELETIA

VIBURNUM ROBUSTUM

New Blue Solanum

Solanum rantonetti Improved. We have selected this new improved variety for our customers. The color is richer and deeper and the flowers are much larger and more freely produced than on the older type. Makes a bushy mass of dark green luxuriant foliage and is covered with masses of 1½ inch flowers like little cart wheel spokes and all in rich blue-violet with a center hub of bright yellow. Effective and different. After blooming a light pruning will cause it to burst into bloom again. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Spring Beauty

Saxifraga rubicunda. The large round deep green leathery leaves of this low growing plant make a nice rich cover for shady places. In late winter and early spring the plants are glorious with their large clusters of rich pink flowers, like apple-blossoms, long lasting and waxy. Excellent under trees or on the north side of the house. Gal. 75c.

Bird of Paradise

Strelitzia reginae. Makes clumps of "tropical foliage" about 3 to 4 feet high consisting of many leaves from the base. In late winter and spring the glorious long-necked "birds" raise their green bills and yellow and blue plume feathers. A most striking plant for rich soil, as a foundation plant or as a lawn specimen. Ideal as a cut flower for arrangements, always imparting its rich color in a glorious way—even in the garden. Gal. $2.95, 5-gal. $8.50.

Viburnums

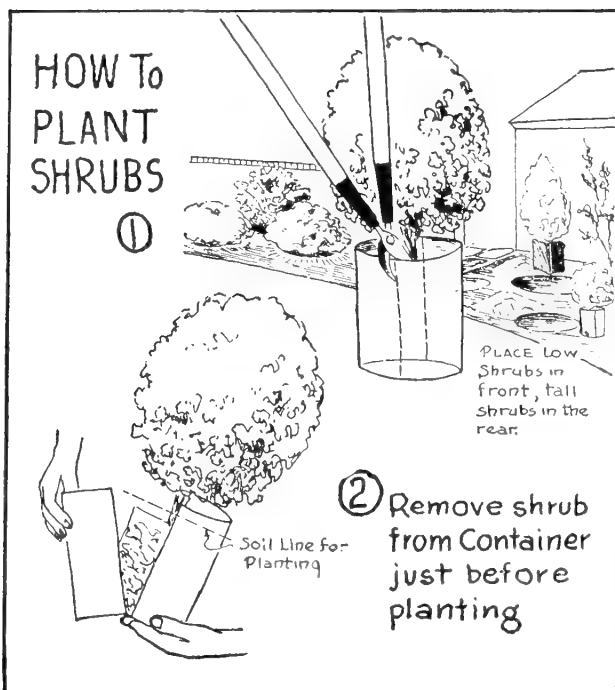

Viburnum robustum. We recommend this dark green shrub for planting in any place that you would use Viburnum tinus. The deep green leaves make a dense mass of foliage. Unusually resistant to mildew. Flowers white followed by blue black berries. Sun or shade. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Sandankwa

Viburnum suspensum. One of the finest evergreen foliage shrubs. Winter flowering, producing clusters of fragrant white flowers followed by deep blue-black berries. Makes a beautiful specimen or a first class hedge of dense growth and rich green glossy foliage. Ideal as a screen plant where an 8 to 10 foot height is desired. Full sun. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Xylosma

Xylosma senticosa. One of the most beautiful of all foliage shrubs. Very amenable to training as an espalier to glorify an uninteresting wall; sheared into a globe or pyramid shape or allowed to grow freely as a graceful medium sized shrub. The rich green glossy foliage is delightful. For sun or shade. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.30.

PUNICA CHICO

MOCKORANGE, PHILADELPHUS VIRGINICAL

Rosedale's Spring Flowering Shrubs

SHRUBS THAT LOSE THEIR LEAVES IN WINTER

The shrubs included in this group fill a definite requirement in home planting. Not only are they hardy enough for planting around summer homes even in the mountains but also, by losing their leaves in winter, allow circulation of air around the house foundation and relieve dampness sometimes found where evergreen shrubs are close to the walls. They are all showy plants, many offering flowers suitable for cutting and a great many bloom before the leaves appear, making their blooms even more prominent. We offer only the best of the group in Rosedale's Selected list.

Flowering Quince (Cydonia)

This thickly branched shrub almost bursts into flame each spring when it becomes covered as if by magic with its gayly colored single rose-like flowers. The glossy dark green leaves that follow have the same quality as many of the better evergreen shrubs.

Salmon Pink. A lovely shade of salmon rose. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Scarlet. Very showy orange-vermilion. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Crepe Myrtle

The showiest of all summer-flowering shrubs, Crepe Myrtle makes a large specimen shrub or a small tree. One need never bother about care for these plants once they are established. The flowers are very delicate and possess a crepe-like texture in the five graceful petals. Flowers are grouped in large clusters at the ends of the branches, thereby giving a great show. Full sun, blooms during the heat of summer. Makes a fine lawn specimen or an efficient and pleasingly colorful screen plant where undesirable views need to be excluded.

Watermelon red. Very brightly colored. A rich bright pleasing red Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Pure white. Flowers pure white, very lovely and popular. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Rose. Abundant light pink flowers. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Magnolia

Magnolia soulangeana. The lovely large flowered lily-like Magnolia from China, whose beautiful flowers are a sight in early spring. Makes a large slow growing shrub bearing quantities of large white flowers with lavender-pink shadings on practically every stem. Leaves appear shortly before the flowers are gone and the summer dress is a lovely light green. Each, 5-gal. $8.50.

Mock Orange

Philadelphus Virginical. In every way this is the best of the Philadelphus for the lovely large double pure white flowers in spring are delightfully sweet scented. It does not grow rank and weedy, in fact, it is the essence of refinement and the light green foliage is an asset to any garden. Extremely free-flowering and well deserving its popularity. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.70.

Double Flowering Pomegranate

Punica Chico. This is so different from the common dwarf flowering Pomegranates that it is difficult to make any comparison. The flowers are like fully double bright red carnations—the same size and freely produced during hot summer. A dwarf shrub 1 to 2 feet high, will offer many possibilities in foundation plantings and in the garden. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.95.

MAGNOLIA, SOULANGEANA (See page 19)

SCARLET FLOWERING QUINCE (See page 19)

Double Bridal Wreath

Spiraea reevesiana, Double Bridal Wreath. Little pearly white fully double flowers covering the graceful arching branches, and the medium size dark glossy green leaves make this Spiraea one of the best. Withstands severe cold and heat well. Sun. 8 feet, but if flowers are cut for bouquets, it may be kept much smaller. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Lilacs

Syringa persica laciniata, Cut Leaf Persian Lilac. We all like lilacs even if they won't bloom in southern California, but there we are wrong because the cut leaf form of Persian Lilac will bloom each year. Flowers are the same lilac color as those hybrids that won't bloom. 6 to 8 feet. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Weigela

Weigela Eva Rathke. This is more at home in the south than most of us realize and is, therefore, an ideal shrub for general planting. This six-foot shrub has bright red honeysuckle-like flowers, much larger and showier than the best Abelia. Sun. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Weigela rosea. Much like the above, but a lovely shade of pink. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

CREPE MYRTLE, ROSE (See page 19)

WEIGELA ROSEA

Rosedale's Shade and Flowering Trees

DECIDUOUS SHADE TREES

The use of deciduous trees for shade purposes has been discouraged in California, where the climate suggests year around foliage. However, winter is our rainy season with dampness following rain, and less sunlight each day. Trees planted near the house that admit free circulation of air and penetration of welcome sunshine are preferable.

In the summer months, too, trees have the advantage of cleanliness. Evergreen trees drop their leaves a few at a time so they always appear to be in leaf, whereas the deciduous trees lose theirs all at one time. During the summer months the evergreen kind are shedding some of their leaves while the deciduous trees have new leaves which will last until late September or October. There is little distinction between the shade giving proportions of one type over the other. Maple Ash, Sycamore, or Chinese Elm are equally good, especially for street planting.

When pruning your trees, make clean cuts, always close to a main stem, leaving no stubs to die back and cause rot later. If attention is given to making a good start in training the tree, there will be little need of extensive pruning jobs later. When large cuts are necessary, use an appropriate tree paint to protect the cut surface.

PRICES ARE FOR BARE ROOT STOCK AVAILABLE JANUARY TO MARCH.

Prices higher in containers.

Silver Maple

Acer dasycarpum. Fast growing large trees for quick shade or screen are often necessary. To fill this request, we can't go wrong with Silver Maple. It is not really a wide spreading tree, but makes a generous top, well clothed in attractive maple foliage. The undersides of the leaves are silvery, hence the name, and lighten the color of the leaves. 8 to 10 ft, $2.50; 10 to 12 feet, $3.00.

White Birch

Betula alba. Not really a shade tree, this beautiful deciduous tree makes wonderful clumps for lawn planting with attractive white bark and light yellow-green leaves. The white trunks are more attractive if birch is planted in front of dark evergreen trees or shrubs. Before the leaves fall they assume a bright yellow color. Give plenty of water for better growth. 8 to 10 feet, $2.75; 10 to 12 feet, $3.50.

ORCHID TREE—BAUHINIA PURPUREA (See page 23)

EUCALYPTUS FICIFOLIA (See page 23)

FLOWERING PEACH (See page 22)

CAROB, CERATONIA SILIQUA

Modesto Ash

Fraxinus velutina glabra. A fast growing shade tree forming a dense rounded crown of deep green foliage. Modesto Ash was selected and propagated as a distinct variety because of its ability to shed dust during the dry rainless summer. It always has a clear neat appearance. Fast growing and requiring little water, it thrives equally well along the coast or inland. 8 to 10 feet, $3.00; 10 to 12 feet, $3.50.

Sweet Gum

Liquidambar styraciflua. This is the only large tree to turn really brilliant in fall. The maple-like leaves assume shades of crimson and scarlet, later becoming almost purple before falling. It makes a cone-shaped pyramidal crown well filled with foliage and not wide spreading. Thus it is ideal as a street tree, lawn specimen or even as a background or shade tree for medium sized lots. 5-gallon or balled specimens, 4 to 5 feet, $3.75; 6 to 7 feet specimens, $5.00. Not handled bare root.

Sycamores

Platanus orientalis, European Sycamore. One of the finest shade trees for lawns or street planting. Makes a fairly compact rounded head of maple-like leaves. The bark is attractive on the trunk and larger branches because the outer parts peel off, thus exposing the light colored inner bark. Sycamores are clean, neat growing trees suitable for refined plantings anywhere. They do appreciate generous watering, especially during growth. 6 to 8 ft. $2.25; 10-12 ft. $3.50.

Platanus racemosa. A native tree and frequently seen as large, tall specimens with open branching crowns, and at other times as clumps of several trunks spreading in picturesque twisted fashion. The leaves are large and the individual lobes longer and more pointed than the European Sycamore, although the bark has the same mottled appearance. A neat tree either in youth or in old age. 6-8 ft. $2.25; 10-12 ft. $3.50.

Chinese Elm

Ulmus pumila. A rapid growing shade tree similar to the evergreen elm but the branches are always more or less upright. Leaves small, deep green, well clothing the crown. They stay on until late in the year and return early in spring, giving a long season of dense shade. Chinese elm is a medium size tree, never getting very large either in height or spread. 8-10 ft. $2.25; 10-12 ft. $3.00.

ROSEDALE'S FLOWERING TREES

Arnold Crab

Malus arnoldiana, Arnold Crab. Small rounded trees with short trunk and spreading branches. One of the showiest spring flowering trees with red buds and pure white flowers. $2.00 each.

Bechtel Crab

Malus ioensis plena, Bechtel Crab. Quite different from any flowering tree with its large 2-inch double flowers set closely among the stems. $2.00 each.

Purple Leaf Plum

Prunus blieriana. Best of the purple leaf plums. For ornamental purple foliage it is very fine but the large double pink flower in early spring before the leaves gives the suggestion of double flowering peaches. Hardy and showy. $2.00 each.

Flowering Peach

Prunus persica, Flowering Peach. Flowering peaches are slightly later in season than the crabs. Like them, they are small trees laden with showy blooms before the leaves appear. Small specimen trees often spectacular when in bloom. $2.00 each.

White, Pink (early or late), Red (early or late), Variegated (pink and white).

JACARANDA

BROAD-LEAF EVERGREEN TREES

In keeping with our description of conifers, these trees have broad leaves which remain in healthy condition all year. Many have extremely bright flowers, often in great profusion as in Bauhinia and Jacaranda, delicate and graceful in Acacia, large and lovely and at any time on Magnolias. Others are just first class shade trees useful for all places where shade in winter is not objectionable. All trees of this group are sold with soil on the roots.

Acacia

Acacia baileyana. The best of the Acacias for general planting. Plummy bluish leaves, feathery in texture, completely clothing the dense round head. In late winter or spring it is yellow with fluffy yellow flowers. Does not cause lifting of the soil, heaving of pavements, etc., as does the Black Acacia and is never as dark and sombre. 5-gal. $3.50.

Purple Orchid Tree

Bauhinia purpurea. For a showy small tree, Bauhinia has many merits. The flowers, 2 inches across, have an appearance similar to orchids, and are light pink to orchid purple with some admixture of white. At flowering time the tree is completely covered with flowers, especially if planted in sun. At this time, there are few leaves remaining, but it will quickly leaf out again as the flowers fade. 5-gal. $3.50.

Camphor

Camphora officinalis. The standard street tree in many communities, Camphor makes a uniform pleasing growth of light green leaves. The main branches make picturesque patterns, usually grey, but become black when wet by rains, thus increasing the effect. Camphor is distilled from the wood of this tree. 5-gal. $3.50.

Carob

Ceratonia siliqua. Extremely hardy and suitable for street planting, this low round headed tree is one of the best. It has dark grey-green rounded leaves and inconspicuous flowers. 5-gal. $3.50.

EVERGREEN ELM

MAGNOLIA GRANDIFLORA (Detail of flower above)

Eucalyptus

This group has achieved significance in California and the warmer parts of the Southwest. It includes the only really tall growing trees, and many small flowering trees, all natives of Australia, and well suited to our growing conditions.

Eucalyptus ficifolia, Scarlet Flowering Gum. Dwarf, compact tree whose rounded head becomes literally ablaze with flaming scarlet flowers in summer. A useful specimen tree, the roots do not harm other plants. 5-gal. $3.50.

Jacaranda

Jacaranda mimosaeifolia. Showy flowering tree, attractive in June with its lavender-blue flowers. Large trees make an impressive sight. The flowers are tubular and in good size clusters; the foliage light green and fern-like. 5-gal. $3.50.

Southern Magnolia

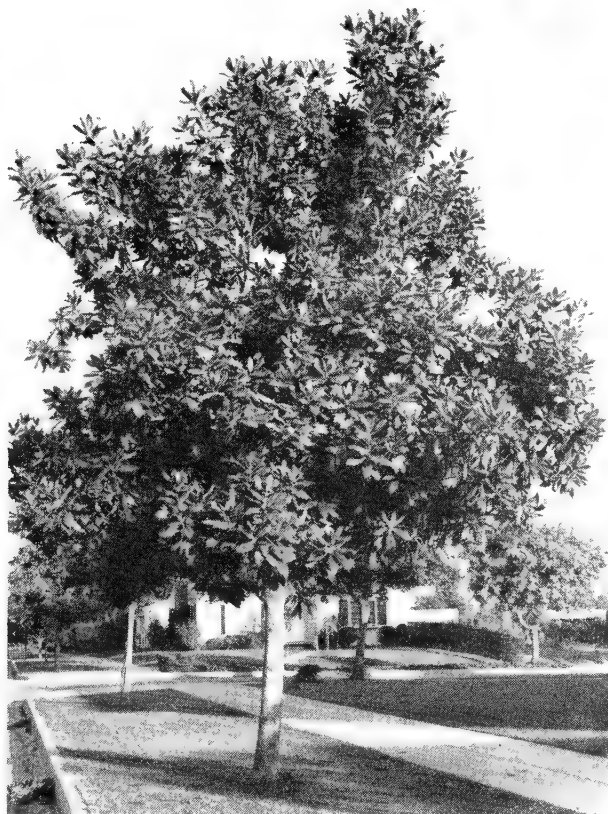

Magnolia grandiflora. Beautiful compact tree with large deep green shiny leaves and immense white waterlily-like flowers. Slow growing to a height of about 60 feet. Always clean and neat. Give abundant water. 5-gal. $3.50.

Olive

Olea europea. Olives are both picturesque and beautiful with their graceful sprawling branches and blue-grey foliage. The fruits of this variety are among the best for pickling. Require little care once established. Beautiful as a shade tree for garden or lawn, especially where space is at a premium. 5-gal. $3.50.

Evergreen Elm

Ulmus sempervirens. One of the best small evergreen trees for lawn planting, especially for small houses. Makes a small rounded tree with gracefully arching branches, held high enough to allow for outdoor furniture underneath. 5-gal. $4.25.

LARGER SIZES AVAILABLE AT THE NURSERY

BERCKMAN'S GOLDEN ARBORVITAE

Cedars

Cedrus deodara. Tall growing tree with wide spreading branches forming a tall cone shape. The branchlets with their bundles of soft grey-green needles hang gracefully. The popular plant for Christmas planting. $5.00 to $10.00.

Cypress

Blue Lawson Cypress (Chamaecyparis lawsoniana alumi). Blue form of this hardy native making a close growing specimen for places requiring a taller plant. Seldom over 10 feet high and arriving at this height slowly. Always attractive. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Golden. Lawson. (Chamaecyparis stewarti). New growth a lovely golden yellow, as attractive as the Blue Lawson. Gal. $1.25, 5-gal. $4.25.

Forbes Cypress (Cupressus forbesi). With the spreading of the fatal fungus in Monterey Cypress, we believe it unwise to further distribute Monterey Cypress and instead suggest planting Forbes Cypress. It has the same habit of growth, makes an excellent fine textured hedge, medium or large, and is immune to the disease. Gal. 50c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Italian Cypress

Cupressus sempervirens glauca. Finest type of all. Introduced by us several years ago, it has proven its fine qualities and superiority over other Italian Cypresses wherever planted. A stunning variety making a tall, narrow column of dark green foliage. Gal. $1.00, 5-gal. $3.75.

Incense Cedar

Incense Cedar (Libocedrus decurrens). Tall compact pyramid of deep green, having a shape roughly like a pointed egg when mature, being broadest about a third the way up. Leaves shiny green and fragrant. At home anywhere and frequently seen as a street tree. Native to California. 5-gal. $3.50.

Junipers

LOW GROWING

Pfizers (Juniperus pfitzeriana). Popular all over the country in heat and cold, this favorite is equally at home. A low-spreading shrub with fine small soft needles. Excellent ground cover as a low accent. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Sabina tamariscifolia. The best low-growing juniper. Slow-growing, making a dense cover over the ground seldom higher than 10 or 12 inches. In appearance much like a dwarf Pfitzer juniper. For ground cover, or in front of shrub plantings about the house. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

TALL GROWING

Chinese Column (J. chinensis columnaris). Tall, close growing specimen evergreen. 10 to 15 feet, not nearly as tall as the Italian Cypress, and slightly thicker in diameter. Excellent grey-green foliage. Gal. $1.25, 5-gal. $3.95.

Hollywood Juniper

Juniperus torulosa. The world's finest. This artistic growing shrub combines well with modern architecture. The unusual and distinctive twisted stems assume various shapes without training. The deep green foliage of fine texture is always healthy and neat in appearance. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Redwood

Redwood (Sequoia sempervirens). The tall narrow form of Redwood, with its gracefully pendant branches of deep green shiny needles and russet-red bark makes it a specimen tree for many places. It is surprising how well it grows here—always neat and tidy, keeping its restricted narrow spread. 5-gal. $3.50.

Arborvitae

Berckmans Golden (Thuja aurea nana). Dwarf, globular shaped shrub with close-growing fern-shaped branchlets standing on edge and bright golden yellow at all times. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Beverly Hills (Thuja beverleyensis). Slender growing type with golden foliage. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

PFITZER'S JUNIPER

BIGNONIA VIOLACEA

Rosedale's Vines FOR EVERY PURPOSE

Boston Ivy

Ampelopsis veitchi. A wonderful small leaved vine for covering walls or as a good ground cover. Will cling to wall surfaces without support. In fall the leaves assume brilliant colors before dropping and showing the little blue berries in clusters like grapes. Gal. 80c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Queen's Wreath

Antigonon leptopus. A quick growing vine from a perennial root, excellent in the hotter, drier areas because the vine part is renewed annually, quickly clothing porch trellises with dainty green foliage and long pendant clusters of lively pink. Gal. 95c.

Bougainvillea

Bougainvillea Crimson Lake. The most widely planted of all with real red, not magenta flowers. This variety makes a truly magnificent show when allowed to scramble over walls, roofs or arbors. 5-gal. $4.95.

Bougainvillea Barbara Karst. NEW INTRODUCTION. One of the finest Bougainvilleas yet introduced. Makes a bushy compact vine of medium growth blooming almost continuously. It is quite hardy and has an excellent root system. Flowers are large and a brilliant red, freely produced, even on young plants. A must for a showy flowering evergreen vine. Gal. $2.50, 5-gal. $5.95.

Evergreen Grape

Cissus rhombifolium. One of the finest of all foliage plants for pots or outdoors. The leaves are dark, shiny green, each with three leaflets and prettily veined. Does well in shade or sun. Especially fine in window boxes when the foliage can hang over the edge. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

ROSEDALE'S BOUGAINVILLEA, BARBARA KARST

See page 14 for Espalier Ornamental Shrubs, including the beautiful Bougainvillea, Barbara Karst.

CAROLINA JESSAMINE — GELSEMIUM SEMPERVIRENCE
(See page 26)

HIBBERTIA VOLUBILIS. GUINEA FLOWER

Trumpet Vines

Bignonia cherere, Scarlet Trumpet. Flowers very large, 4-5 inches long, flaring to a 2-inch wide mouth. Bright red with rich yellow tube, the outside being tinted with light lavender. Strong grower. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Bignonia violacea, Lavender Trumpet. The most popular Bignonia probably because it is dainty in growth and free flowering in habit. Flowers light lavender with deeper veins are very pretty and cover the vine in late spring and early summer. Shade or sun. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Creeping Fig

Ficus repens. This close-growing clinging vine is one of the most practical wall covers. The rounded leaves are about an inch long and are set very close together. Does not ruin masonry. Sun or shade. Gal. 75c.

Carolina Jessamine

Gelsemium sempervirens. An excellent twining vine covered with fragrant yellow trumpet-shaped flowers in late winter. Makes a neat growth of large luxuriant green leaves. Excellent foliage, stunning shade, adaptable for most any soil. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Guinea Flower

Hibbertia volubilis. Showy golden flowers 2 inches across appear quite freely on this healthy Australian vine most all summer. Sun or part shade. A very good new addition to California horticulture. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Ivy

Hedera canariensis, Algerian Ivy. This is the large leaved fast growing ivy which is so good as a clinging wall vine. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Variegated. Leaves with creamy-white markings. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Jasmines

Jasminum grandiflorum, Spanish Jasmine. Hardy, slender-growing twining vine making a quick cover for fences and trellises. Fragrant white flowers. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Jasminum primulinum, Primrose Jasmine. In habit of growth, luxuriance of deep green foliage it is equal to the Spanish Jasmine except the flowers, which are semi-double golden yellow. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Star Jasmine

Rhynchospermum jasminoides. Delicate twining vine with pointed leathery deep green leaves and in June or later, covered with hanging clusters of pure white pin-wheel shaped fragrant flowers. One of the finest vines for sun or shade. The fragrance increases in evening. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

PASSION FRUIT — PASSION FLOWERS

Passiflora edulis. The edible passion fruit which in recent years has become more and more popular for its fruits. They make delicious and unusual fruit juice—used like grape juice. Grown on trellises, allowing 10 or 12 feet for vines to cover overhead, or on fences where they should be trained like a grape vine. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Passiflora pfordi. One of the showiest Passion vines. The large 4-inch flowers being very beautiful and intricately formed, are white with a blush tint inside with a beautiful blue-purple crown. Makes a quick growth and holds its foliage well the remainder of the year. Sun or flowers. Gal. $1.00, 5-gal. $3.95.

PASSIFLORA PFORDI

Evergreen Wistaria

Securidaca volubilis. One of the best vines of recent introduction. It is most attractive planted in a sunny spot where it can climb. The panicles of blue wistaria-like flowers make a superb display. Give plenty of sun and not too rich soil. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Cup of Gold

Solandra guttata. In a class by itself the glorious cup of gold or "Copa de Oro" of the Spanish Americans is a great spreading twining vine whose enormous buds and open funnels of golden yellow are amazing. Give full sun and not much water. Gal. 90c. 5-gal. $3.50.

Cape Honeysuckle

Tecomaria capensis. Useful as a shrub or vine with glossy green leaves and showy scarlet flowers most of the year. Hardy and easy to grow. Makes a 6 to 12 foot shrub. Sun. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $3.30.

Two-Toned Trumpet Flower

Tecoma jasminoides rosea. Delicate climbing vine with light green airy foliage and showy clusters of light pink trumpets with deep cherry red centers. Very beautiful, easy to grow. Full sun or partial shade. Gal. 75c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Blue Sky Flower

Thunbergia grandiflora. Dependable for a quick cover of lush foliage. The large trumpet-shaped flowers are a clear light blue with white throats. Plant in a sheltered place in areas subject to hard frosts. Gal. 90c, 5-gal. $3.50.

Wistaria

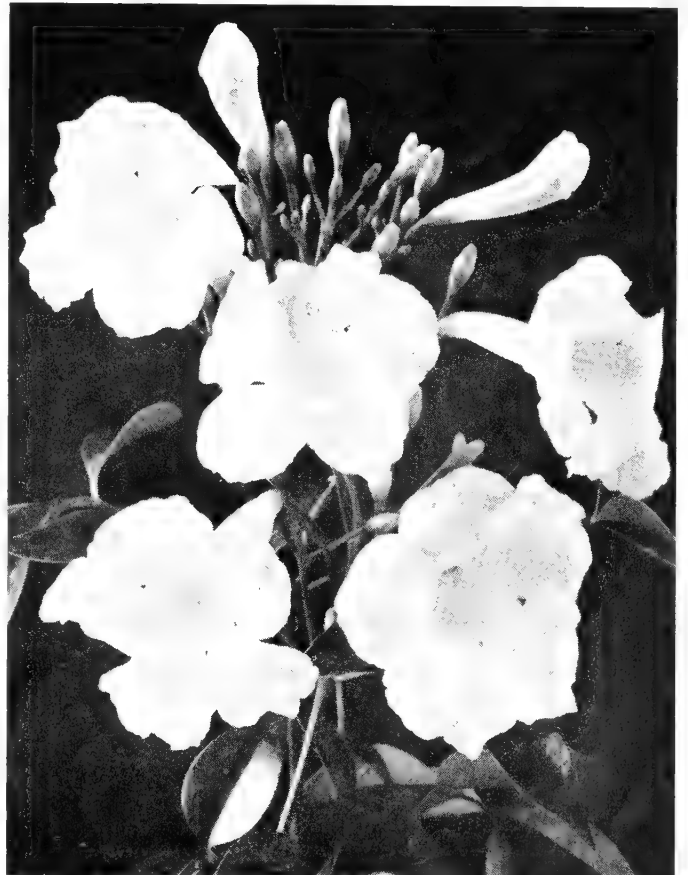

We don't have to describe this well known hardy vine for its long clusters of fragrant and unique blue flowers are known all over the country. It makes a large growth and so needs a substantial support. Blue. Each, $3.95.

VALENCIA ORANGE

DELICIOUS ORANGES for LARGE OR SMALL PLANTINGS

Whether you are planting a small or large orchard or only a single specimen or two, it will pay to select your trees at Rosedale's. We offer only top quality trees in varieties popular for quality and flavor.

The orange is among the best known of all warm climate fruits as a source of delicious, health-giving juice and fruits for salads. To get the best quality fruit from your planting, plant correctly and give the best care—regular watering, cultivation of the soil under the branches; fertilizing and spraying to keep free of scale.

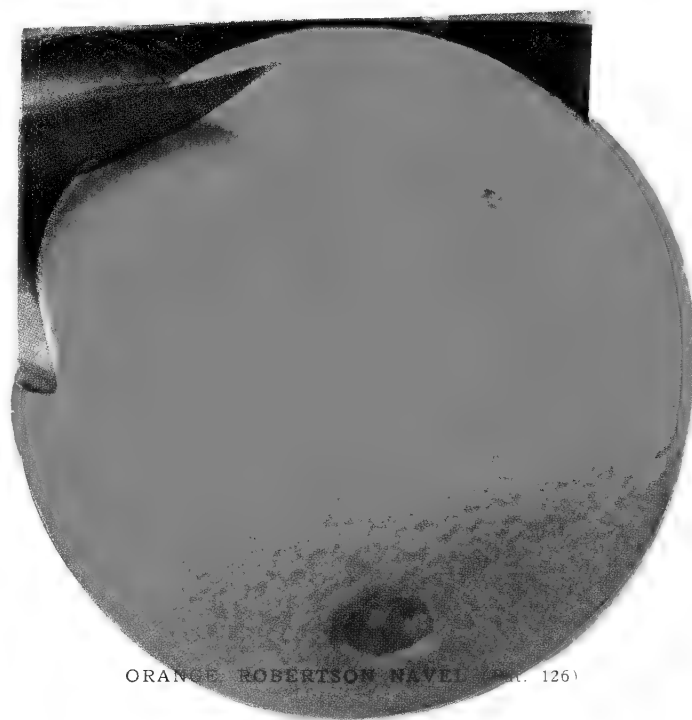

As an ornamental tree—the orange rates very high—deep green lustrous foliage covering its rounded form from the ground up and in its season, the luscious fragrance of blossoms perfumes the air. Orange blossom honey is one of the choicest types there is, if you keep bees.

Robertson Navel

A sport of the Washington Navel whose distinction of producing enormous crops of delicious navel oranges is well recognized. The fruits are larger, possess a smoother skin and are generally of a better quality. Since it ripens three weeks ahead of the Washington Navel it extends the season by almost a month. It is a fine winter orange for home planting. (Pat. 126). Each $6.50.

Seedless Valencia

Pat. 124. A welcome form of the Valencia orange lacking the customary seeds so common in this popular summer juice orange. Fruits similar to the ordinary Valencia with finer textured flesh, containing less "rag". Trees are of vigorous growth and bear excellent crops of fruit. We recommend this orange very highly and believe you will agree with us on the quality of its fruit. $6.50 each.

ORANGE ROBERTSON NAVEL (Pat. 126)

Valencia

Smaller sized fruits, but very fine flavored, although containing a few seeds, making high quality juice. Thin skinned fruits are easily juiced. Makes a large tree. May to fall flowering. Each $5.95.

Washington Navel

The most popular winter ripening orange. Large, seedless fruits unexcelled for flavor, juice and general high quality. Pee's easily and sections can be separated readily without breaking. Fruits ripen from December to April. Each $5.95.

Tangerines

Dancy

Beautiful, large thin-skinned fruits, easily peeled and containing a wealth of tasty orange-red segments. Each $5.95.

Satsuma

Hardy for a citrus, this variety does well in most places. Fruits are flattened, with a looser skin covering the tasty orange-red juicy segments. One of the earliest tangerines to ripen, often before Christmas. Small neat tree, 10 to 12 feet high and a good bearer. Each $5.95.

King Mandarin

Large colorful fruits with delightful flavor. The skin, rougher than on most tangerines, fits loosely and is easily peeled exposing the tasty segments beneath. Has few seeds. The King Mandarin is the largest of all tangerines. Ripens from March to August. Each $5.95.

Suggestions for Using Oranges in Home Plantings

Oranges make an effective screen or barrier at the back of the lot or along a noisy street. Plant so the fruit may be easily picked—say 15 to 20 feet apart, or closer with the reservation that alternate trees will be removed when crowded. Fruit forms on the ends of the branches, so they will not stand shearing and still bear.

Protect newly planted trees with special tree protectors to keep hot scorching sun away from the bark. Older trees naturally protect themselves in deep shade by the low set branches. Never prune citrus except to keep the shape. Prepare holes well and feed regularly with Rosedale's All-Purpose Plant Food.

GRAPEFRUIT — A Summer Treat!

Best in the hottest areas with irrigation. We do not recommend them for coastal planting. For such areas, it is wiser to plant oranges and other citrus.

Marsh Seedless

Large, practically seedless fruits, thin-skinned and juicy. Makes a vigorous yet compact tree, bearing heavy crops May to August. Each $5.95.

Lemons

For all types of planting—they produce quality fruit under most conditions. Even the dwarf Meyer Lemon gives quality lemons.

Eureka

Although this high quality lemon is extensively planted commercially, it is one of the best for home planting, producing high quality, juicy medium-sized fruits. Trees practically thornless. Each $5.95.

Meyer

Lemons are slightly less hardy than oranges except the Meyer, which stands considerable cold. Fruits of the same quality but larger and juicier; a beautiful ornamental tree for the home garden. See also the dwarf form under Dwarf Citrus. Each $5.95.

Limes

Bearss Seedless

Large richly flavored acid fruits are produced in quantity on this large vigorous tree. Practically thornless and summer ripening, it has all the qualities one could ask for in a lime. Each $5.95.

Mexican

Small, light green fruits are strongly acid and richly flavored. Semi-dwarf tree bearing the year around. Each $5.95.

Kumquat

Kumquat, Nagami

Semi-dwarf tree or large shrub of considerable ornamental value. The small deep green foliage makes a beautiful shrub and stands shearing well. The fruits are long and narrow, quite tasty but best used for marmalades for which it is best known. Each $6.50.

NAGAMI KUMQUAT

EUREKA LEMON

Tangelo

Sampson

Most popular of all the Tangerine-Grapefruit hybrids and very easy to grow. A very unusual citrus for home planting. Just as hardy as the orange and heavy bearing, too! Fruit golden yellow with a smooth skin like a grapefruit but the flesh is orange-red, possessing a delightful flavor. Excellent for juice when fully ripe in early spring. Each $5.95.

Dwarf Citrus

Meyer Lemon

One of the best plants to serve both as an ornamental shrub and as a source of fine lemons for culinary use. Dwarf in habit, it is constantly covered with fragrant lavender and white blossoms and maturing fruit. Gal. 95c, 5-gal. $3.95.

Calamondin

A large shrub or small tree with excellent foliage and clusters of small to medium size fruit — brightly colored reddish orange and very juicy. Flavor is unique among citrus making flavorful beverages and excellent marmalade when mixed with other citrus. Gal. $1.25; 5-gal. $4.50.

Make sure you fruit trees will bear large, delicious fruit in generous quantities, year after year! Rosedale's Pedigreed label means your tree carries a pedigree from the finest stock produced—stock on which records of yield, flavor and consistency of bearing has been maintained for years.

Rosedale's Avocados and Subtropicals

FUERTE AVOCADO

AVOCADOS

The rise in popularity of Avocados, from a rare delicacy to a common every-day item of food is remarkable. Plant one or more trees in your garden—enjoy their cool deep shade and select them for their ripening season so as to extend the time you will be furnished with their fruits. We give the approximate ripening period of all varieties.

Duke

A fine quality thin-skinned Avocado. It has quantities of deep a considerable area of California. Each $6.95.

Edranol

An excellent variety—exceptionally delicious, pleasingly flavored fruit. Medium size pear-shaped and dark green with a thick skin enclosing the smooth buttery flesh. This is a tall narrow-growing tree, best along the coastal area, yet harder than most thick-skinned kinds. May to August ripening. Each $6.95.

Fuerte

A large spreading evergreen tree of considerable ornamental quality, but the fruits have become the standard by which Avocados are judged. Long pear-shaped fruits with a smooth, leathery green thin skin and delicious buttery flesh, creamy-yellow when ripe, has few equals for quality. Ripens from December to May. Each $6.95.

Ryan

Large spreading tree bearing heavy crops of medium-sized pear-shaped green fruits of good quality. It follows the Fuerte in ripening, May to October. Each $6.95.

PLANT AVOCADOS FOR YEAR-'ROUND FRUIT

Proper choice of suitable varieties will extend the season of this nutritious salad fruit.

Ripe in Spring—Edranol.
Ripe in Summer—Ryan, Edranol.
Ripe in Fall—Duke, Ryan.
Ripe in Winter—Fuerte.

The home fruit garden in Southern California is not complete without some of these highly desirable "different" fruits. Everyone knows the avocado for its popularity has spread rapidly in recent years, but about the only way you can enjoy such rare treats as Custard Apple and Sapote is to grow them at home. All of these are evergreen trees, quite adaptable to the home landscape plan, useful for their foliage, small stature and shape for many ornamental purposes.

The fruits of all subtropicals cannot be picked and eaten at once. Rather, they should be picked and stored a few days in a cool, dark place, preferably wrapped in newspaper until they ripen. Then chill in the refrigerator and serve.

WHITE SAPOTE

Suebelle. A strong growing evergreen tree, the fruits much like green apples, but with the rich flavor of peaches. This is the best variety and perhaps the hardiest, being grown wherever oranges are hardy. Each $6.75.

Custard Apple -- Cherimoya

The large heart-shaped fruits of Cherimoya are one of the best flavored of subtropical fruits. Recent advertising of "Pliofilm" for preserving delicate fruits has promised the availability of Cherimoya among many others, but why wait for so uncertain a prediction, for they are readily grown in frost-free areas with little care. Cherimoyas make a neat, round-headed small tree and require the same treatment as Citrus.

Flavorite

(Trade Mark Registered)

NEW. The finest cherimoya we have ever had the pleasure to eat. The enormous fruits often attain a weight of 3 or 4 pounds each and every one of the finest quality—ice cream texture with easily separated seeds. This is truly the "Fruit of the Gods". Each $7.25.

Whaley

We consider this to be one of the finest for flavor—the creamy, smooth white flesh is eaten with a spoon and is so finely flavored as to defy description. Winter ripening. Each $6.95.

CHERIMOYA FLAVORITE (Trade Mark Reg.)

Rosedale's Fruit and Nut Trees for Home Planting

(PEDIGREED STOCK)

Many trees grown generally for the fruits they give our table are equally beautiful in the garden, for the bloom is often comparable to that of purely ornamental varieties. Peaches, cherries, apples, quinces, apricots, and pomegranates are useful for their flowers; persimmons for their large showy fruits. They can be used any place a flowering tree is used; as backgrounds, sometimes with branches hanging over a wall, or in groves where they will not only beautify your garden with flowers and picturesque habit but will provide delicious fruits as well.

Available for mail order during months of January, February and March only. Postpaid anywhere in U. S.

ALMONDS

Distinctly a California product, they are a good investment in frost free localities, where dry summer heat prevails. All varieties must be cross-pollinated in order to bear a good crop. We suggest planting a Ne Plus Ultra to pollenate Nonpareil.

Ne Plus Ultra

Large long nuts with a soft corky shell. Nuts have a beautiful appearance. We recommend planting one of this variety for every four Jordanolo almonds to insure formation of fruit. Each $1.50.

Nonpareil

The best commercial almond for California. Nuts are of the paper-shell variety, of medium size and excellent flavor. Each $1.50.

APPLES

The warm climate in Southern California is not kind to apples and only a few varieties will do well. These happen to be the yellow types and we offer the best of these. We do not recommend planting the late red winter apples.

NEW CAL-KING APPLE

(Trade Mark)

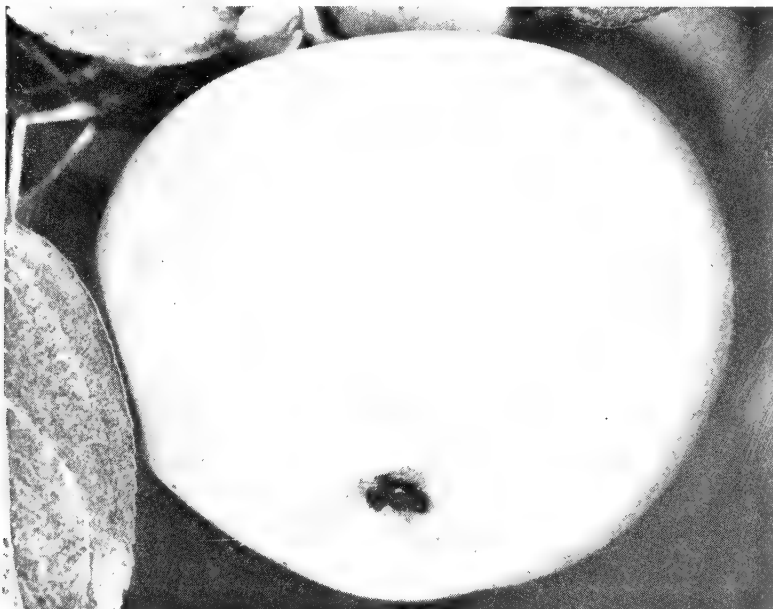

An apple that will really thrive in this area. We have closely observed this apple year after year and it has consistently produced a large crop of fine fruit. It is one of the most delicious apples we have ever tasted. An abundance of sweet juice literally oozing from the firm white flesh makes it a real delight to eat fresh. Very fine for cooking, too. The fruit is exceptionally large and handsome, bright green skin with a red cheek. Ripens in November. Each $2.50.

Winter Banana

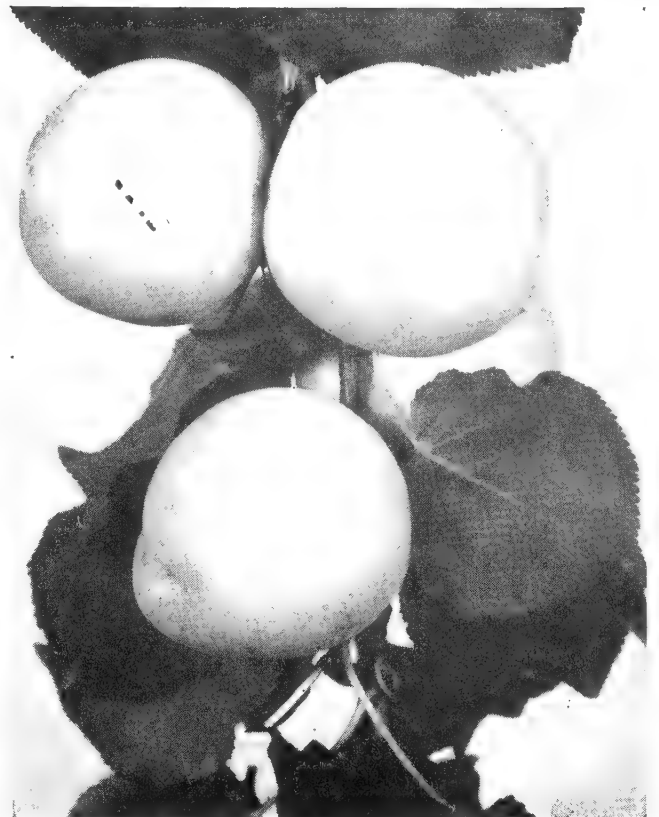

This shapely fruit is large, pale yellow with red blush. The flesh is crisp and tender. Trees come quickly into bearing and do well in most sections, particularly along the coast. September. Each $1.50.

Yellow Bellflower

Large oblong, ribbed fruits are a pleasing waxy yellow, often with a beautiful pink blush when the sun shines on them. One of the best varieties for cooking. October. Each $1.50.

WINTER BANANA APPLE

GOLDBECK PERFECTION APRICOT

CRABAPPLE

Transcendent

Large red-blushed golden yellow fruits, crisp and tender, appear during August. They make the finest jelly, preserves and spiced fruit. It is a handsome ornamental with good foliage and lovely bloom in spring. Each $1.50.

APRICOTS

Few deciduous fruits are so well adapted to home planting as are Apricots. They ripen early in the season well before other fruits of this class and home grown fruits are a special treat—picked ripe and full of goodness from your own trees. They are excellent for eating fresh or preserved either alone or with other fruits. Apricots have a tendency to set heavy crops and better size and quality can be had by deliberately thinning fruits after the crop has set.

Goldbeck Perfection

This marvelous apricot should be in every garden. The luscious fruit of this small tree cannot be surpassed for flavor, color and ripening quality. Delicious rich golden-yellow flesh. Fruits are very large, averaging 2 inches in length. Bears consistently every year. Each $2.00.

Blenheim

Large, well-formed and attractive fruits. Delicious and one of the leading California varieties. Ripens in June. Each $1.50.

Royal

Heavy bearing, good size fruits. Rich sweet deep orange flesh. Excellent for home use. Early June. Each $1.50.

Moorpark

Extra large highly colored fruits. One of the best flavored and most delicious. Each $1.50.

CHERRIES

Black Tatarian

Large, juicy purplish-black cherries ripening early in June. A delicious variety for eating and recognized as an excellent pollinizer for the other sweet cherries. Each $1.50.

English Morello

Fruit dark red, almost black when ripe, makes excellent pies. This cherry is a small round headed tree, useful as an ornamental for its spring blossoms. Each $1.50.

Rosedale's Select Peaches for Home Planting

BROWN TURKEY FIG

FIGS

Figs are very desirable fruits for home planting for they reach perfection without much fuss and bother. Because they are delicate fruits to handle, bruising easily, they are at their best grown at home and picked fresh as needed.

Brown Turkey

A very fine fig—purple brown skin when ripe, enclosing very delicious soft white flesh with pink interior. Very large fruits in abundance. Prune heavily in winter. Each $1.50.

Kadota

The small yellow green fruits of the Kadota fig are extremely rich and sweet. Best for preserving of any variety. Ripe summer and fall, not necessary to prune. Each $1.50.

Mission, California Black Fig

Purple-black fruits with tasty brownish flesh. Leave trees unpruned. Each $1.50.

Prices of Deciduous Fruits are for Bare Root only.

NECTARINES

Nectarines are peaches with smooth fuzzless skins. All have white flesh and are delicious either fresh or canned. Slightly sweeter than the peach and considered by some to have a better flavor.

Gold Mine

Large red and yellow fruits. The juicy white flesh has exceptionally fine flavor. Early August. Each $1.75.

Gower

Fruits large and round, pale green with deep red blush. Flesh white, sweet and juicy—firm enough for canning. Early June. Each $1.50.

Stanwick

Very large fruits with pale green skin shaded with purplish-red. Flesh white, juicy and deliciously aromatic. Early August. Each $1.50.

FOR YOUR SAFETY

The Rosedale's Pedigreed label signifies the fruit trees you purchase at Rosedale's have been budded from the finest parent stock of which records of yield, flavor and consistency of bearing have been maintained for many years.

Items on this page may be ordered by mail. Shipped prepaid anywhere in the U. S. during January, February and March only.

Peaches are an all around useful tree for home planting. Few others do as well, so freely setting their luscious fruits with so little trouble. The trees bear well even while small, and never get very large. Ever pick peaches fresh from your own tree? If you have, you understand our enthusiasm for this choice fruit. If not, you have one of the greatest pleasures in store for you.

There are two types of peaches, "clingstone" in which the stone adheres to the flesh when the fruit is cut in two, and "freestone" which does not. Clings are the finest for home canning, presenting a tempting color and possessing a rich flavor. Freestone peaches are best for eating fresh, although they can well, too. The yellow varieties are best for canning. Selections can be made to have peaches fresh in the garden long before and after they are on the market.

FREESTONE PEACHES

Australian Saucer

Oddly shaped saucer-like peaches about 3 inches across and less than one inch thick with a small round stone, but for flavor the sweet, juicy white flesh is very fine. One of the showiest trees for early spring flowers—beautiful deep pink. June. Each $1.50.

Babcock

Although not a large peach, the Babcock is the finest for Southern California, particularly in home gardens. The trees, usually small in size, bear prodigious crops year after year, often so heavy that thinning is necessary to give larger fruit and prevent breaking of the tree. Fruits delicious, richly flavored white flesh. Attractive on the outside with their lovely deep red cheeks. Late June. Each $1.50.

Early Crawford

A fine early yellow fleshed peach. The very large round fruits are richly colored red and yellow. Flesh deep yellow with red rays from skin to pit. Rich flavor, pleasing aroma and very juicy. Late July. Each $1.50.

Socala

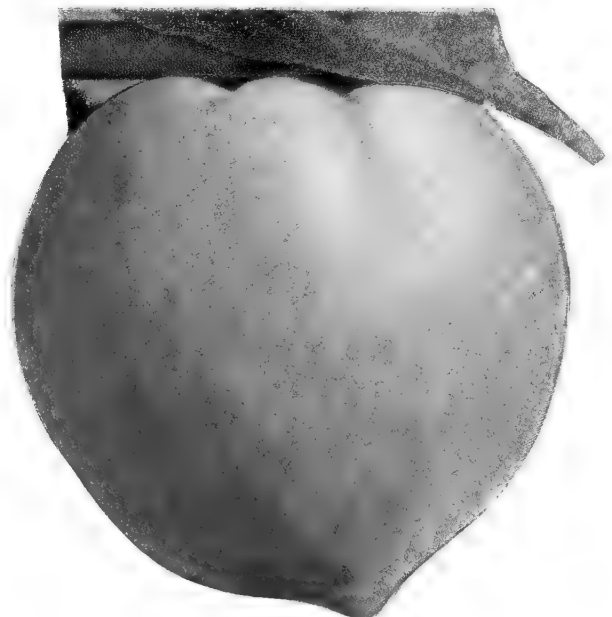

Almost round medium size fruit. Skin yellow with deep red cheek and a beautiful orange cast to the skin. Excellent firm yellow flesh very delicious. Bears good crops each year. Mid-July. Each $1.50.

Elberta

An old favorite, well known wherever peaches are grown. It has fine large oval shaped fruits—yellow with red cheeks and juicy, yellow, fine flavored high quality flesh. Early August. Each $1.50.

Golden Blush

The golden yellow fruits of this variety are about the size and shape of J. H. Hale or Elberta and have beautiful red cheeks. They are of exceptionally fine quality. Bred for southern California winters, they will produce consistently year after year regardless of the winter. Ripens in mid-August. (Pat. 473.) Small trees only. Each $2.00.

PEACH ROBIN (Pat. 529)

PEACH, GOLDEN BLUSH (Pat. 473)

Hermosa

White fleshed freestone peach whose parents were J. H. Hale and Babcock. This should be a good recommendation for a good peach and it really is. It produces heavy crops of medium size fruits, sweet and juicy, ripe about mid-July. Makes a vigorous growing tree and the fruits are excellent for eating or canning. Each $1.75.

Hutchinson

This brand new peach has so many fine qualities that we are at loss for words to describe it. In our test gardens it has been most vigorous in growth and ripens quantities of enormous fruits in mid-August. Flesh white and so richly flavored that we could not help but remark—Nectar of the Gods! We also noticed the beautiful red cheek and the lack of customary fuzz, often objectionable on many peaches eaten fresh. We are sure you will agree with us that this is an outstanding peach in every respect. Each $1.75.

Indian Blood

One of the most unusual appearing peaches and unusually delicious sliced and eaten fresh. The deep red flesh is very tasty—the skin very dark and covered with a thick greyish almost woolly fuzz. Fruits of medium size, and round in shape. Late August. Each $1.50.

J. H. Hale

Large round fruits very beautiful to look at and delicious to eat. Beautiful yellow skin, marked with deep red. Very popular and excellent quality. Bears well except after very mild winters. Each $1.50.

Millers Late

The best quality late ripening peach. Heavy bearing and ripe in October and November almost to Thanksgiving. Fruits large, with tasty yellow flesh. Each $1.50.

Newcal Peach

NEW. A heavy bearing peach of the Elberta type, medium size, oval in shape with delicious yellow flesh. Ripens in mid-August. This new peach will begin bearing two years after planting. Each $2.00.

Redwing

An improved Babcock, ripening at about the same time but with larger fruits, more beautiful to look at and of better quality. The flesh is firm, white with a blush-pink color and when mature heavily splashed with red. A delicious peach which we know you will enjoy in your garden orchard (Pat. 621). Small trees only. Each $2.00.

Rio Oso Gem

(Pat. 84.) Large round peaches with deep crimson cheeks and richly flavored yellow flesh. On the order of J. H. Hale, ripens two weeks earlier and finer than that variety for Southern California. Each $2.00.

Robin

An excellent semi-freestone white fleshed peach. Fruits are of medium size and show a beautiful red cheek where touched by the sun. Ripe in early June. (Pat. 529.) Small trees only. Each $2.00.

CLINGSTONE PEACHES

Mills Cling

For canning has no equal. A big fellow, about twice average size. Juicy and sweet, firm warm yellow flesh with rich and luscious flavor. Beautiful in appearance. Ripens in October. Each $1.50.

Orange Cling

Large orange-yellow fruits with deep yellow colored flesh for canning. This variety is the best for this purpose. Late August. Each $1.50.

Sims Cling

This fine quality peach bears consistently good crops each season. Golden yellow fruits, larger than average and of excellent quality to the pit. Late August. Each $1.50.

HOWARD MIRACLE
PLUM (Pat. Applied for)

SUGAR PRUNE

PLUMS

To insure better crops of plums plant a tree of Wickson variety to pollenate the other trees in your planting. Plums do well here, especially the blood plums, which are the best for eating.

Howard Miracle Plum. (Pat. Applied for.) This is truly a miracle plum—twice the size of an ordinary plum but with an exceedingly small pit and amber colored flesh possessing a delicious flavor suggestive of pineapple. Develops a beautiful red cheek where exposed to the sun. Bears heavy when planted with Wickson or Santa Rosa. Ripens July to August. Supply limited. $2.00 each.

Santa Rosa

Santa Rosa. Large oval purplish-crimson fruits covered with a light blue bloom. The amber flesh is veined with crimson. This plum is a good pollinizer for other varieties as well as bearing a good crop each year itself. Late June. $1.50.

Satsuma

Satsuma. One of the most popular blood plums but has to have another tree such as Beauty, Santa Rosa or Wickson to fertilize its flowers and insure a crop. Fruits large, almost round, deep red with firm, juicy, tasty blood-red flesh. July. $1.50.

Wickson

Wickson. Popular large heart-shaped plum. Color a pleasing straw yellow with bright red blush. The amber colored flesh is juicy and delicious. A good pollinizer for other plums. July. $1.50.

All Rosedale's Pedigreed Fruit Trees Are Selected for Superiority in Southern California Gardens.

PEARS

Pears, delicious fruits for the table and canning, are not always good performers in mild climates. The two listed here are the most satisfactory. Fruits are better if picked just before they are ripe and allowed to ripen in a cool dark place. In this way they keep the smooth texture of the flesh.

Bartlett

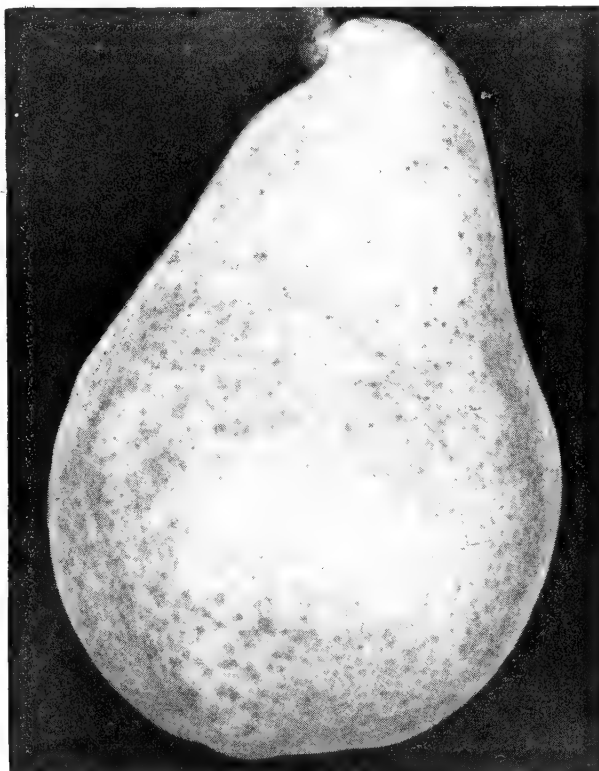

Well known all over and one of the best for California. An especially good home variety with richly flavored flesh that literally melts in your mouth. Large fruits ripe about August. Each $1.50.

Beurre d'Anjou

Fine large pear. Ripens in fall. Fruit has yellowish flesh with a rich and vinous flavor. Each $1.50.

Winter Nellis

One of the best winter pears we can grow here. Fruits of medium size with a dull russet skin. Flesh yellowish-white, of good flavor and texture. Bears heavy crops in southern California which ripen early in December. Each $1.50.

BARTLETT PEAR

PERSIMMON

These glorious trees are a sight every fall in California when the leaves turn color and the large waxy bright orange colored fruits are ripe. The seedless pulp is eaten fresh or made into delicious spicy cake or steamed pudding.

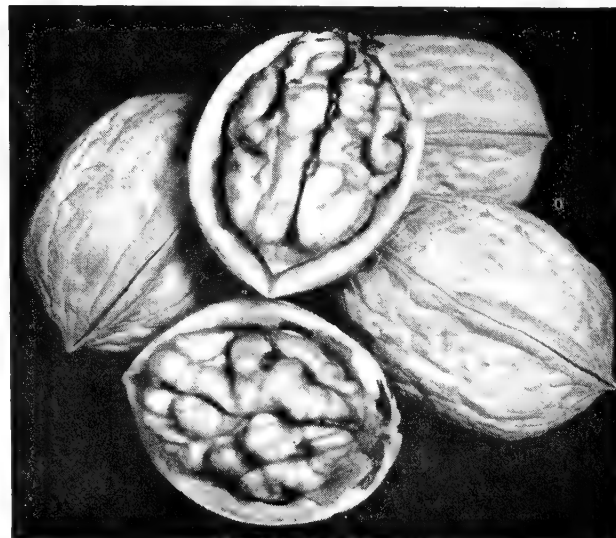

Fujiama

One of the finest Persimmons for home gardens. Fruits tomato-shaped, bright red, full of delicious, flavorful pulp which lacks any vestige of pucker. Bears consistent crops. In our opinion this is one of the best. Each $3.30.

Hachiya

Long the most popular persimmon. The flavor of the ripe fruit is sweet, rich and mellow and well worth waiting for the ripe stage. Very beautiful with its bright orange-red fruits. Each $3.30.

Fruit trees may be purchased by mail order during the months of January, February and March.

WALNUT, PLACENTIA

POMEGRANATE

Wonderful

The pomegranate is the most ornamental of all fruits grown in California. The large bushy shrub has good foliage, always attractive with its small narrow yellow-green leaves, and bright red flowers all summer. The fruits which follow ornament both the shrub and later the table. When cracked open the fleshy, garnet-colored sections are a delight to salads and fruit cups. Pomagranates seem to do better in the hottest places. Each $1.50.

PRUNES

Prunes are very much like plums. In addition to eating fresh they are dried for winter use. Many prefer fresh prunes to plums for eating quality. One of the noted sights of California is the prune orchards in bloom in February.

French Improved

This variety is widely planted for dried prunes. Fresh, the fruits are of good size, oval and deep purple with sweet, sugary flesh. Bears large crops ripe in September. Each $1.50.

Italian

Beautiful purple fruits with a dark blue bloom. The flesh is greenish-yellow in color and sweet and juicy. The fruits are of medium size pointed and tapered toward both ends. A very productive free growing variety. Excellent for drying. Each $1.50.

Sugar

Bears well in all sections and a good variety for home planting, fruits of good size, dark purple in color. Flesh very sweet and juicy; amber colored. Excellent for canning. Late July. Each $1.50.

QUINCE

Pineapple

Large round short-necked fruit, a beautiful golden yellow when ripe and at that time giving off an aroma of pineapple. Originated by Luther Burbank in his search for a quince that would become tender when cooked. September. Each $1.50.

PERSIMMON, HACHIYA

WALNUTS

The English or Persian Walnut, as it is more properly called, is one of the finest open-headed shade trees we have. The habit is more spreading than tall so that it needs ample room in which to grow. There is nothing difficult about growing walnuts, as good crops may be had each year.

Eureka

Popular variety with large, long meats. Shells are thicker, sealing the kernels within. Meats of high quality cream-colored, plump and of waxy texture. 4-6 ft., each $4.25.

Payne

Large rounded nut similar to Placentia. This tree requires little space in which to grow and coupled with this it bears not only large crops but you don't have to wait a long time before a crop can be had. Very desirable for home planting. 4-6 ft., each $4.25.

Placentia

The best variety for Southern California. Oval shaped nuts with thin, smooth but strong shells. Has advantage over Eureka in bearing heavier crops. 4-6 ft., each $4.25.

Perennial Vegetables

Rhubarb

An easily grown perennial plant. Set roots in soil enriched with generous supply of manure. Set plants 2 to 3 feet apart and allow to grow a season before pulling the stalks for cooking.

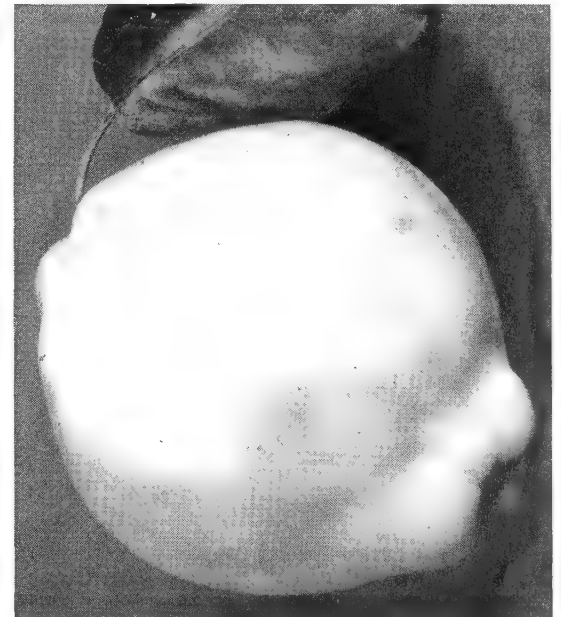

Cherry. Fine quality large bright red stalks. Each 35c, 3 for $1.00.
Strawberry. Vigorous type. Stalks light pink. Each 35c, 3 for $1.00.

Artichoke

French Green Globe. Most popular artichoke. Perennial plant with very ornamental blue green foliage and during summer, the large flower buds are cut and cooked. If allowed to blossom, they provide pretty large blue flowers. Easy to grow. Large divisions, each 35c, 3 for $1.00.

Asparagus

Paradise. Stalks large, thick green of excellent quality. Produces abundant crops early in the season. One of the best for home gardens. 25 for $1.25.

Rosedale's Berry Bushes for Home Planting

ROSEDALE'S VICTOR BERRY

ROSEDALE'S VICTOR BERRY

(Trade Mark Registered)

These berries are the accepted champion of them all. They are entirely different in flavor, very sweet and extremely juicy. Victor Berries are practically thornless and may be picked without gloves. They are prolific bearers, rapid growers and their luxurious foliage will quickly cover your fence or patio wall. Plant them for a new flavor treat either fresh or preserved. Each 75c; 3 for $2.00; 10 for $6.50; 100 for $50.00.

BLACKBERRIES

Blackberries are among the finest fruits for jelly or eating fresh with sugar and cream. They develop stout canes which bear the season's crop; so allow plenty of room, or if trained on trellises, set plants farther apart, about 6 to 8 feet is ample. After the crop has been picked, remove the old canes close to the ground and rearrange the new growth on the trellis, for this produces the next crop.

All Blackberries, 25c each, 10 for $2.00.

Cory Thornless

The Cory overcomes the chief objection to blackberries—the strong sharp thorns. With this one, blackberries are possible even in a small garden. Berries are jet black, sweet and small seeded.

Mammoth

Long stout canes with short, small spines and fruits similar to those of Cory, very sweet and almost seedless. Produces better crops if planted near Loganberry which will pollenate the flowers.

RASPBERRIES

For home gardens, set raspberry plants 2 to 3 feet apart in the row. Although they normally support themselves, a trellis of wood or wire, stretched between posts is desirable to keep the growths in place and make picking easier.

Sodus Purple

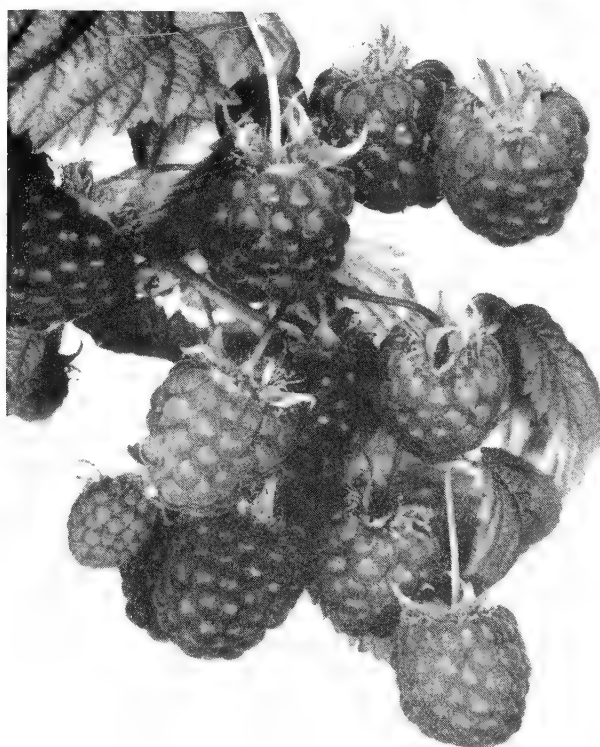

Large, very delicious, rich purple berries—juicy, sweet, richly flavored with a delightful aroma. Makes an excellent growth and comes into bearing the same season if set out early. One of the finest for pies, jams and jellies. 30c each, 10 for $2.50.

St. Regis

Fine red raspberry. Large delicious berries in good size clusters. Very fine quality. 25c each, 10 for $2.00.

BE SAFE!

Look for the Rosedale's Pedigreed Label signifying that the fruit trees you buy have been budded from the finest parent stock of which records of yield, flavor and consistency of bearing have been maintained for years.

RASPBERRIES

Guavas

Guavas serve a dual purpose in the garden. They are shrubs possessing exceptional beauty of form, color of foliage, flowers and the fruits makes delicious jelly of exotic flavor.

Lemon Guava. Tallest growing and producing the largest fruits, often 2½ inches across. Clear yellow. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Red Strawberry. Low compact habit of growth and bright red fruits about an inch across make an attractive hedge either sheared or growing at will. Makes a delicious bright red jelly. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Yellow Strawberry. Good sweet yellow fruits similar to the Red Strawberry. Prolific. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

Pineapple Guava, Feijoa sellowiana. This shrub deserves wider use as an ornamental for its showy flowers in spring. Velvety white petals and clusters of bright red stamens are attractive. Fruits flavored of pineapple. Grey-green foliage is attractive in the background. Gal. 70c, 5-gal. $2.95.

RED STRAWBERRY GUAVA

BOYSENBERRY

Good sized berries, deep purple-black when ripe, wonderful flavor. Fruit combines blackberry, raspberry and loganberry, of which it is a hybrid. Excellent fresh or in pies, jams and preserves. The vines are vigorous and should be planted 4 to 6 feet apart. Tips, 25c each, 10 for $2.00. Transplants, 30c each, 10 for $2.50.

Thornless Boysenberry

In every respect like the above but without thorns. Ideal for backyard gardens where space is limited to avoid danger of tearing clothing. 50c each, 10 for $4.50.

STRAWBERRY, ROCKHILL

LOGANBERRY

Long, deep red berries, much longer than any other, with a rich flavor. Makes fine jams, jelly or preserves. Vigorous, hardy vines. Plant 4 to 6 feet apart. Tips, 25c each, 10 for $2.00.

Thornless Loganberry

Like the Loganberry, but devoid of thorns and therefore, ideal for home planting. Vines vigorous and productive. 35c each, 10 for $3.00.

YOUNGBERRY

Berries ripen early—a rich deep wine color, changing to jet black, practically seedless and richly flavored. Vigorous heavy-bearing plants. Set 6 to 8 feet apart and give support of a trellis. Tips, 25c each, 10 for $2.00. Transplants, 30c each, 10 for $2.50.

Thornless Youngberry

No thorns. Otherwise like the above. 50c each, 10 for $4.50.

STRAWBERRIES

Delicious berries may be grown in almost any garden. They are dwarf, with beautiful foliage, making them excellent plants for edging paths in your vegetable or flower garden, or where space permits, in wider and larger beds to serve as a ground cover. Set plants one foot apart each way.

Blakemore

Very fine quality early berry. One of the finest large berries offered. 10 for 60c, 25 for $1.25.

Gem

One of the best everbearing types. Berries large, beautiful, bearing fine crops after the other types have finished. Quality and flavor fine. 10 for 60c, 25 for $1.25.

Klondyke

Delicious highly flavored berries. In California it ripens from April until July with two distinct pickings possible, one ripe immediately after the first. 10 for 50c, 25 for $1.00.

Missionary

One of the finest berries for hot weather and for poor sandy soils. Bears fine quality crops which ripen slightly later than Klondyke. 10 for $1.75, 100 for $15.00.

Rockhill

(Reg. No. 24.) The only true Rockhill. Everbearing type completely without runners. Rockhill has the finest flavor of all strawberries—berries large, and sweet. Bears large crops earlier and later than other types. 10 for $1.75, 100 for $15.00.

FOR MAIL ORDER—Bare root fruit trees, berries, small fruits and roses may be ordered by mail for delivery prepaid to any part of the U. S. during the months of January, February and March only.

Rosedale's Grape Vines

GRAPES

Both European and American grapes do well in California, and either are equally well adapted to planting in arbors or on stout trellis. In the field, European grapes are pruned back to a short trunk to give support to the heavy crops. Plants should be set about 6 feet apart.

AMERICAN GRAPES

Each, 50c

Concord. Most popular blue grape for juice, jelly and preserves. Does well here, making an ideal cover for arbors. Fruits in small, well filled clusters, a rich deep blue. Flavor very fine, berries large. August.

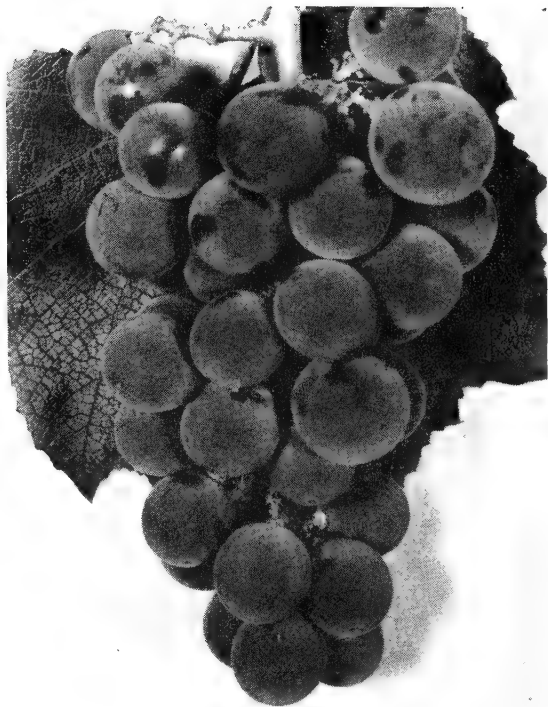

Niagara. The finest white grape. In size and quality equal to Concord. Bears large crops of large, pale green berries which are delightfully sweet and tasty. August.

EUROPEAN GRAPES

Each, 25c

Black Monukka. Very fine black eating grape. Berries large seedless, long like Thompson's seedless, in great loose bunches. Early August.

Flame Tokay. One of the finest late grapes. Very long bunches. Fruits long and firm, rich red with lilac bloom. Quite distinct, for the flesh is firm, crisp and sweet. Keeps well after picking. October.

CONCORD GRAPE

GRAPE, TOKAY

Red Malaga. Unusually delicious grapes. Deep red with blue bloom. Berries large, firm, sweet and richly flavored. August.

Ribier. Extra large grapes, almost round, blue black. Bunches medium size. Very sweet and richly flavored. August.

Thompson's Seedless. Very popular seedless white grape. Bunches very large, berries sweet and mild flavored. August.

White Muscat. One of the finest grapes for eating. Fruits large and oval, with a rich sweet flavor to the firm light amber colored flesh. Bunches large and loose. September.

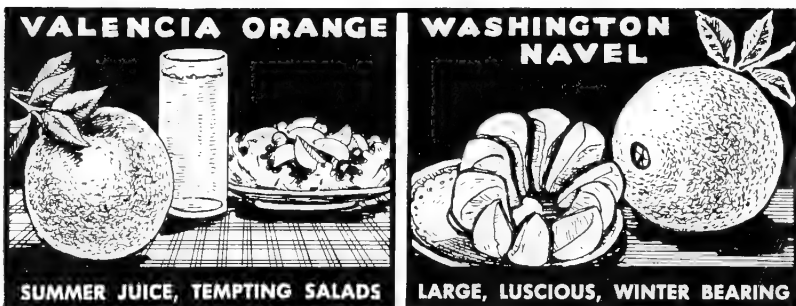

Zinfandel. Large, compact bunches of round dark purple sweet berries, each coated with a heavy bloom. This grape has been extensively planted as a wine grape, but is also delicious for eating. September.

All Grapes are available by mail order. Postpaid. January, February, March only.

ORANGES

VALENCIA ORANGE. Thin skinned, not too large, but bursting with rich sweet juice. The best juicing orange. Bears heavy crops from May to Fall.

WASHINGTON NAVEL ORANGE. From December to April this bears quantities of large seedless oranges. Easily peeled. The segments full of richly flavored juice, are ideal in salads.

These Four Citrus Trees Are Musts for Wise Planting!

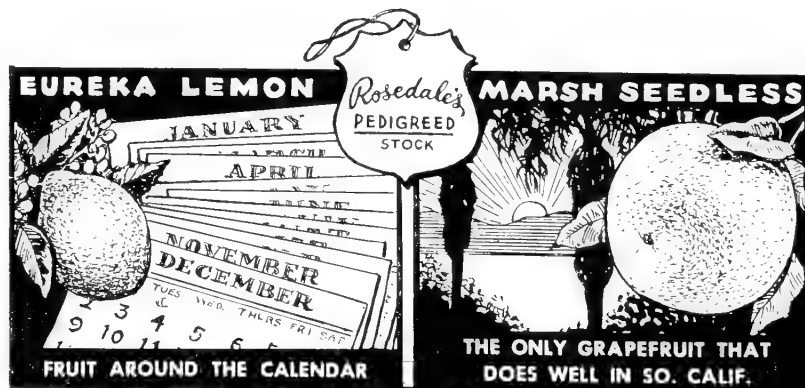

LEMON

EUREKA LEMON. One tree will provide all the lemons you want all the 12 months of the year. Large, juicy and top quality too!

GRAPEFRUIT

MARSH SEEDLESS GRAPEFRUIT. The only Grapefruit that does well in southern California. Fruits are large, sweet and juicy and practically seedless.

Any of the above Citrus trees priced $5.95 each.

Twins for a Perfect Lawn

ROSEDALE'S ALL PURPOSE LAWN SEED

Velvety lawn all year 'round in sun or shade!

Through extensive research in its own plant laboratories, Rosedale's set out to find the best lawn mixture for Southern California gardens that money could buy! Here it is now, ready for your lawn at no higher price than ordinary lawn mixtures! This blending of fine bladed grasses and white clover, containing absolutely no coarse rye, is Rosedale tested to be the best suited to the temperature variations to which a Southern California lawn is subjected 24 hours of the day and 12 months of the year. Quick growing, hardy and long lasting, it gives excellent coverage: 1 pound to 150 square feet. This is the least that is recommended by Rosedale's. Heavier seeding will give even quicker results.

ROSEDALE'S ALL PURPOSE PLANT FOOD

Immediate action! Lasting results in healthier, sturdier plants!

A Rosedale development, laboratory tested to be a proven, highly effective plant food. Nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and 13 other major and essential elements have been blended in Rosedale's own laboratories from the materials best suited to produce these elements as a plant food. One sack of Rosedale's Plant Food is equivalent to approximately 10 sacks of ordinary steer manure, is nearly odorless and is easier to store. For best results 100 pounds to 2500 square feet every 3 months is recommended.

The 50 or more petals make a flower equal in form to the finest camellia. For all its smooth porcelain finish and dainty refinement of texture and color, Ming Toy is far from being a delicate rose. Plants are rugged, abounding in health, which accounts for the steady production of flowers. Flowers last 5 to 6 days when cut. Patent applied for. $1.50 each.

Mirandy

All America Winner 1944. A glorious deep red rose. Excellent in bud and as open flowers. You will like this new rose named in honor of Mirandy of radio fame. Pat. 632.

$2.00 each.

Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek

Large, long-pointed buds, opening to huge empire-yellow roses fading to a good tone of lemon yellow as the flower matures. A vigorous grower with glossy, dark green foliage. Pat. 664.

$2.00 each.

Mrs. Pierre S. duPont

A handsome deep golden yellow rose, spicily scented and showing deeper tones of orange. Splendid for cutting. 95c each.

Mrs. Joseph Perraud

Lovely buds, made up of enormous petals in a perfectly formed combination of nasturtium-buff lightened at the edges by luminous pink. Heart of the bud a glowing orange. $1.25 each.

Mrs. E. P. Thom

One of the most popular yellow roses, out-performing many in California gardens. Buds and flowers nicely formed, a bright canary yellow. 95c each.

Mrs. Sam McGredy

Beautiful copper-orange heavily flushed with red on the outside. Distinct among roses and very popular. Buds long-pointed, high-centered, open to double sweetly fragrant roses. 95c each.

PEACE (Pat. 591)

Night

This rose is almost black, so deep is the shade of crimson. The effect is heightened by shading of black maroon. Spicy fragrance. Blooms are best in cool weather. $1.25 each.

Peace

A sensational rose which will cause you to marvel at the changes in color through which it passes from the yellow buds with cerise picotee as they open to glorious 5-inch blooms of firm alabaster-white. Each plant will show blooms in various stages of opening and changing colors from canary yellow, pale gold, cream, ivory, alabaster white, cerise, soft rose, apple blossom pink and finally a soft pink lavender. Flowers are unusually long lasting and possess an unusual loveliness; high centered, fully double showing a great center heart of tawny yellow. Stems long and straight holding their blooms singly above the holly-like foliage. Pat. 591. $2.50 each.

Picture

One of the finest pink roses. The strong, vigorous plants are in flower all season. Flowers long-lasting, pink with warm undertones of salmon, have a sweet tea fragrance. $1.25 each.

Pinocchio

A baby rose seldom over two feet high producing clusters of dainty little buds and roses which are bright, cherry and colorful—salmon flushed with gold—and with the fragrance of ripe fruit. Pat. 484. $1.25 each.

MIRANDY (Pat. 632)

SOUTHPORT

Poinsettia

This dazzling red rose has few equals. Buds of excellent form—long pointed and opening to full double velvety-textured flowers glowing with vivid color. $1.25 each.

Pres. Herbert Hoover

Very fine multicolored rose combining shades of cerise-pink, flame and scarlet on a yellow ground. Long buds, beautifully formed, open slowly into exquisitely fragrant flowers. 95c each.

Radiance

Ever popular especially in our locality for the quantities of damask scented pink blooms. The long-stemmed blooms show a deeper suffusion of pink. Healthy and vigorous it shows a great resistance to disease. 95c each.

Red Talisman

A striking red sport of Talisman with the same handsome buds but maroon red opening to velvety blood red which varies much with the weather but is best when it is cool. $1.25 each.

Rose Marie

Perfectly formed and long lasting Rose Marie is one of the best pink garden roses. Deep in color with beautifully veined petals and rich sweet fragrance. Free-flowering and long stemmed. 95c each.

Santa Anita

This is one of the finest rich pink roses of recent introduction. Color pure and glowing with buds and flowers beautifully shaped and borne on long smooth stems. Excellent for cutting. Pat. 539. $1.25 each.

Show Girl

Exquisite long pointed buds of the most perfect form and exceptionally freely produced. Long stems for cutting. The rich phlox pink color is lovely on the waxy textured petals of Show Girl. Fragrant. Pat. 646. $2.00 each.

FOR MAIL ORDER—Bare root fruit trees, berries, small fruits and roses may be ordered by mail for delivery prepaid to any part of the U. S. during the months of January, February and March only.

Sister Therese

Long, slender tightly formed buds are always perfectly formed—chrome yellow tinged with carmine, opening to lighter yellow blooms with deeper tones of apricot and gold. Spicy fragrance, strong, vigorous, free-branching. 95c each.

Southport

Lovely buds opening quickly to loosely but gracefully formed brilliant scarlet flowers. For brilliant color, delicate fragrance few other red roses equal Southport. 95c each.

Talisman

This is probably the best known rose, unusual buds vase shaped and brightly and pleasingly colored orange-scarlet with shading of rich golden yellow toward the base. Delicious fragrance. Flowers excellent for cutting. 95c each.

Texas Centennial

A very popular sport of a very popular rose, President Hoover. Just change the color of Hoover in your mind to a bright glowing carmine, or in cooler weather a deep blood red and you won't resist this beauty. Pat. 162. $1.25 each.

Victoria Harrington

Velvety dark red with undertones of brick-red. An unusually beautiful rose holding its color well even in hot weather. Pleasing fragrance, magnificent buds with beautiful reflexed petals. 95c each.

Ville de Paris

An exquisite light yellow double rose with pure non-fading color, delightful in every respect. Vigorous and erect in habit of growth with excellent disease resistant foliage. 95c each.

White Wings

Simplicity—the watchword of beauty is exemplified in its truest form in this new and lovely white flower. The silvery white petals stand out in cameo clearness around the jewel of amethyst stamens with their golden crown set in the center. The foliage is laurel green in color and sets off the pyramidal sprays of bloom. We feel sure White Wings will win acclaim all over the country as has its pink counterpart—dainty Bess. Pat. applied for. $1.50 each.

SISTER THERESE

Rosedale's Big Ten Collection

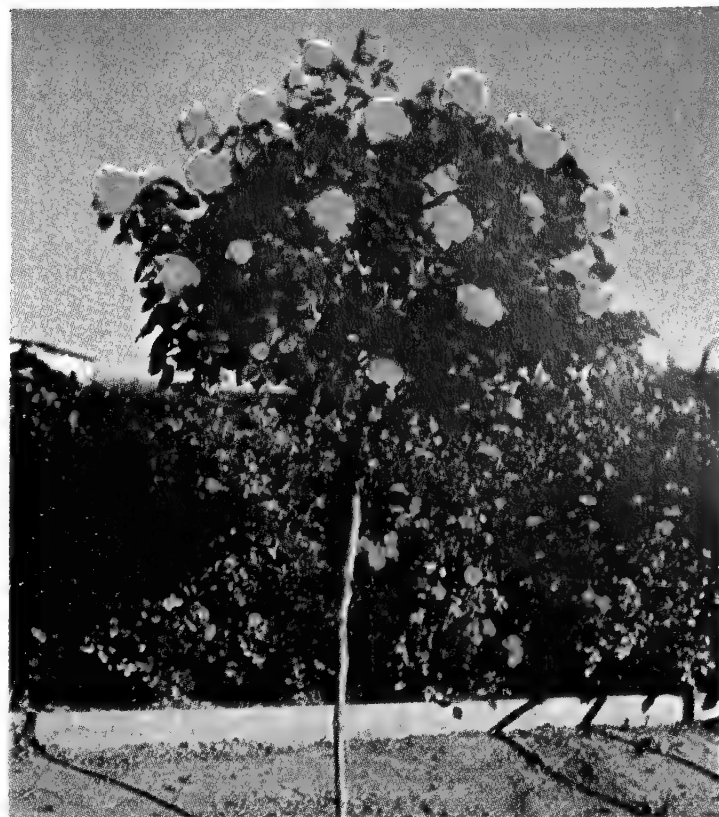

Start a perfect rose garden. In response to many requests for a selection of ten of the best roses for every garden we have made a collection offer of the following ten roses which, in our opinion, are the best non-patented roses for southern California.

- Golden Rapture. Rich pure yellow; perfect form, mild fragrance.
Christopher Stone. Glowing brilliant scarlet with dusky shadings.
Condesa de Sastago. Best multicolor; orange-scarlet and yellow.
Etoile de Hollande. One of the best red roses of all time.
J. Otto Thilow. Perfect buds of lovely rose-pink.
K. A. Victoria. Pure ivory white, free flowering. Everblooming.
Margaret McGredy. Very fine orange-scarlet to brick red blooms.
Mrs. E. P. Thom. Popular. Nicely formed, canary yellow flowers.
Talisman. Long a favorite. Fragrant multicolor rose.
Hadley. Brilliant crimson, fully double and fragrant.

ONE EACH OF THE ABOVE TEN ROSES—$9.50 POSTPAID

THE DOCTOR

TREE ROSE, MRS. E. P. THOM

Plant

ROSEDALE'S TREE ROSES

For Southern California, few roses are as fine for garden purposes as this lovely form. Buds selected for tree roses are the finest and are set on the stem in such a way that a compact flowering head is produced. Support the long canes on stout stakes at the time of planting. Give a severe pruning in January. Never allow the heads to get overgrown and woody. When pruning cut back the strong growth less than the weak. This thinning and shaping constitutes the only pruning care necessary for Tree Roses.

Place them along the borders of the garden, or in the rose garden where greater height is desired.

We offer No. 1 Quality only. Each $4.75, except where noted

Prices Slightly Higher in Containers

PINK

- J. Otto Thilow. Flowers deep pink, delightfully fragrant.
Los Angeles. Free blooming, flame pink shaded gold and yellow.
Picture. Beautifully formed, lovely warm pink, delightful buds.
Rose Marie. Dark rose pink, unusually lovely veined petals.
The Doctor. Uniform silvery pink. Pointed buds. Fragrant.
Show Girl (Pat. 646). Deep phlox pink, fragrant. Exquisite buds. $5.50 each.

WHITE

- Frau Karl Druschki. Wax-like white flowers. Immense long buds.
K. A. Victoria. Old favorite, pure ivory white, long pointed buds, full flowers.

MULTICOLOR

- Autumn. Burnt orange suffused with autumn shades of russet and bronzy red.
Condesa de Sastago. Startlingly beautiful bright scarlet and yellow.
Hinrich Gaede. Rich vermilion-orange.
Pres. Herbert Hoover. Large buds, long stems. Red, pink and buff on rich yellow ground.
Talisman. Lovely distinctive buds, yellow and vermilion.

FLAME, COPPER, BRONZE

- Duquessa de Penaranda. Orange apricot with deep coppery tones. Fragrant long pointed buds.
Mrs. Sam McGredy. Lovely fragrant coppery-orange flushed red.

YELLOW

- Feu Joseph Looymans. Lovely apricot-yellow. Large flowers.
Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek (Pat. applied for). Rich yellow flowers. $5.50 each.
Mrs. E. P. Thom. Free-flowering, beautiful bright yellow.
Mrs. P. S. duPont. Golden yellow fragrant buds. Beautiful foliage.
Peace (Pat. 591). Exquisite large light yellow. All America. $5.50 each.
Sister Therese. Chrome yellow tinged with carmine, opening to lighter yellow with deeper tones of apricot and gold.

RED

- Charlotte Armstrong (Pat. 455). Long blood red buds, cerise red flowers. $5.50 each.
Christopher Stone. Non-fading, brilliant glowing crimson-scarlet.
E. G. Hill. Dazzling scarlet, beautifully double flowers, fragrant.

Mirandy (Pat. 632). Deep rich red. All America Selection. $5.50.
Poinsettia. Flaming red with long pointed petals as brilliant as a Poinsettia.
Red Talisman. Talisman buds in deep red. Velvety flowers.
Southport. Brilliant crimson blooms, dainty buds.
Texas Centennial (Pat. 162). Like Pres. Hoover in glowing carmine. $5.50 each.

Rosedale's CLIMBING ROSES

Prices higher in containers.

CL. PRESIDENT HOOVER

Cl. Belle of Portugal

A giant climber of distinctive proportions—long strong canes and giant size buds 3 to 4 inches long, opening to amazingly beautiful salmon-pink flowers from January to June. The first year after planting finds Belle of Portugal making growth for the bloom to come. $1.25 each.

Cl. Cecil Brunner

Perhaps the most popular climbing rose in California, this polyantha produces quantities of perfect miniature buds and roses. Pink. Foliage dense and handsome covering a vigorous vine. $1.25 each.

Cl. Christopher Stone

The popularity of Christopher Stone as a bush rose has long been recognized. Now in the climbing form the velvety bright crimson flowers and beautiful buds make a real show on a fence or trellis. Patented. $2.00 each.

Cl. Etoile de Hollande

The finest everblooming red climber. Strong growing well foliaged climber with large red buds and beautiful open blooms. Flowers larger, longer stemmed and more freely produced than on the bush form, but with the same delicious fragrance. $1.25 each.

Cl. Feu Joseph Looymans

An excellent climber producing quantities of exquisite tangerine-apricot blooms. $1.25 each.

Cl. Golden Rapture

Climbing form of the popular yellow rose Golden Rapture. Makes an excellent display of long-stemmed buds, ideal for cutting. Rich golden yellow. Pat. 508. $1.50 each.

Cl. Hadley

This climbing sport is vigorous and produces quantities of lovely velvety red flowers similar to those of the bush type. $1.25 each.

Cl. Heart's Desire

Now in climbing form this fine red rose produces the same lovely red blooms of exquisite fragrance and form in even greater profusion. Long stems are excellent for cutting. Pat. 663. $2.00 each.

Cl. K. A. Victoria

Strong growing, free blooming climber, most satisfactory with its deep, double, large white flowers. $1.25 each.

Cl. Los Angeles

The same glorious flame-pink flowers of the bush type. Free flowering and popular. $1.25 each.

Cl. Mrs. E. P. Thom

Vigorous climbing rose covered with flawless yellow buds and flowers. Like the bush type in form of flowers and buds, but more free-flowering. $1.25 each.

HEART'S DESIRE (Patent No. 501)

HOW TO PLANT BARE ROOT ROSES

WRONG

RIGHT

Prepare planting holes as shown on page 18. Spread roots out in a natural uncramped position. Work fine soil about the roots. Water and tamp soil firmly about the roots, using a blunt stick. All broken roots should be cut with a sharp knife or pruning shears.

Cl. Mrs. Sam McGredy

Luxuriant foliage and glorious flowers make this a handsome climber. Long stemmed flowers add to the attractiveness as it climbs over trellis or fence. The flowers are as in the bush variety, with long pointed coppery-orange buds. Pat. 394. $1.50 each.

Cl. Night

The darkest red rose. Large flowers fully double and with the fragrance of cinnamon-clove spice together with the deep crimson with deeper shadings of the bush type. Lovely in either bud or open flower. Pat. 439. $1.50 each.

Paul's Scarlet Climber

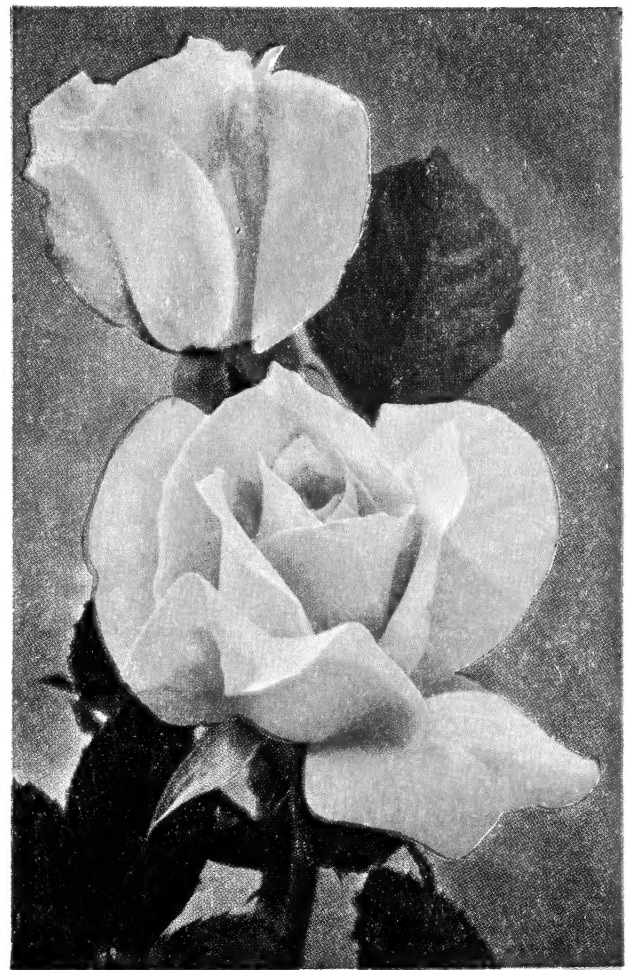

Early a mass of scarlet flowers when in bloom, this hybrid wichuriana with clusters of 3 to 20 semi-double blooms cover the much-branched canes from top to bottom. Very bright red. $1.25 each.

Cl. Picture

Strong growing climber covered with those delightful flowers like the bush form in rich pink, daintly veined and rich in undertones. Pat. 425. $2.00 each.

ITEMS ON THESE PAGES MAY BE ORDERED
BY MAIL DURING JANUARY, FEBRUARY AND MARCH.

PRICES ARE POSTPAID.

CL. PICTURE

CL. MRS. SAM MCGREDDY

Cl. President Hoover

Vigorous climber sporting its lovely multi-colored blooms of yellow shaded pink, red and buff in great profusion. Better than the bushy type for garden performance. $1.25 each.

Cl. Rose Marie

A vigorous climbing sport of Rose Marie producing a profusion of rose-pink flowers all season from spring to fall. Flowers somewhat larger than in the bush variety. $1.25 each.

Cl. Talisman

For fences, trellises, climbing Talisman is one of the most beautiful plants one could imagine. The striking long-stemmed flowers, ideal for cutting, make a gorgeous display. $1.25 each.

Cl. Texas Centennial

Profuse blooming. The color is a rich luminous red without any other shadings. A climbing form of a very excellent rose. Pat. 565. $1.50 each.

Cl. Victoria Harrington

A very fine red—dark and non-fading, velvety in texture and of excellent form. An excellent climber and a real addition to your rose garden. $1.25 each.
